LOOK OUT FOR FIRE!

To Theater Owners, Managers and Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I have equipped the Windsor theater in this city with the Lindgren stationary chemical fire engines. After examining all other systems of fire protection, and after repeated tests of the Lindgren stationary chemical fire engine, and upon the recommendation of the insurance underwriters, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it the cheapest and most powerful, as well as perfect, fire protection for theaters ever invented. In my opinion every theater and opera house in the United States, as well as Europe, should be equipped with these chemical fire engines, and thus save the loss of life and thousands of dollars in property.

Respectfully,
(Signed) H. I. GOLDY,
Owner Windsor Theater, Chicago, Ill.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 19, 1889.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I, George A. Burbank, witnessed the exhibition of the Lindgren chemical engine tested to-day, and as I have witnessed a great many such chemical tests in New York City, Boston, Mass., and other large cities in the East, I hereby state that it was the quickest and most satisfactory test, and was also pronounced so by two of our councilmen and all the citizens present, and I will also state that the time of applying the chemical was left entirely to me and I did not give the word until the fire was well started, for in other tests I have witnessed they have always put the chemical on the minute the fire was started and water would answer just as well, as there was nothing but the flame started and the wood not charred, and I take great pleasure in recommending the "Lindgren" as far superior to any other "Chemical" engine on the market.

ADJOURNED TO MONDAY

The House Concurs in the Senate Resolution.

PROCEEDINGS OF BOTH HOUSES

The Supreme Judges Draw Lots for Choice of Terms.

ANDERS CHOSEN CHIEF JUSTICE

The Necessary Committees Announced in the House—The Senatorial Pot Boiling Fiercely—Ferry's Inauguration.

OLYMPIA, Nov. 13.—The legislature adjourned this morning until 10 A. M. Monday. The house was not so anxious to begin work as it was yesterday, and readily concurred in the senate resolution to take a recess. All the attention the subject received from them was when Moultray read section 22, of article 1 of the constitution, which provides for the compensation of members, for each day's attendance during the session."

"Suppose we take a recess, will our pay go on or will it be stopped," he asked.

"The chair can give the gentleman no information," answered Speaker Feighan when the laughter had subsided.

The senate had a religious discussion during its brief session this morning. Lawrence started it by offering this resolution:

Resolved, That in view of the fact that no appropriation can be made to pay for the services of a chaplain, an invitation be extended to clergymen to be present at the opening of each day's session of the senate to offer prayer.

Thompson of Walla Walla opposed the resolution because there was no provision for religious services. "This is a business body," he said, "and it needs no public administration of the kind offered."

The resolution was carried by a vote of 21 to 4, Kneeland, Thompson of Walla Walla, Wilson and Wolfe voting no.

Justice Stiles, of the supreme court, arrived from Tacoma late last night, and was sworn in this morning by Probate Judge Root. Five slips of paper, two of which were marked 3, two 5 and one 7, were placed in a hat and the justices held a drawing to determine the length of their terms. Scott was the first to try his luck, and drew the figure 3. Anders followed and got the other short term. Stiles and Dunbar drew five-year terms, leaving the seven-year term in the hat for Justice Hoyt. It then devolved upon the three long-term judges to elect either Justice Scott or Justice Anders chief justice. At Scott's request, Anders, who is an older man, was made the unanimous choice of the court. The court then elected Sol. Smith, of Goldendale, clerk, and adopted the rules of the late territorial supreme court for the present, and adjourned until the first Monday in January.

Chief Justice Anders was born in Seneca county, O., in 1838, and was admitted to the bar at Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1863. He has lived in Walla Walla since 1871 and has been elected prosecuting attorney of that district for five terms. For many years he was the law partner of Thomas H. Brents, one of the senatorial aspirants. Justice Anders left for home this afternoon, on receipt of the news of the serious illness of his wife, and will probably not be here to administer the oath of office to Gove nor Ferry.

Lieutenant-Governor Laughton put a quietus on the move to select the standing committees of the senate without his consent. The originators of this move calculated that Laughton would not take his seat until the 15th, and that their place was to empower President pro tem Parkinson to select the committees. Laughton heard of the scheme and knocked it in the head by taking his seat as soon as the proclamation was issued.

The Necessary Committees Reported in the House—In the Senate

When the house met Tucker said that there was some doubt as to the constitutionality of compensating the clergymen who opened the proceedings of the house with prayer, but he was willing to pay his quota of the expense.

The chair said that for the present the ministers of Olympia had volunteered their services.

While the house was waiting for a committee report, Tucker made a brief address, expressing his gratification at seeing the stars and stripes floating from the state capitol—the capitol of the state of Washington—"the last in the Union but the first in the hearts of our country men." [Applause.]

The chair said that the house would never bring disgrace on the stars and stripes.

The committee on standing committees reported that the following were needed: On privileges and elections, on federal relations and immigration, on ways and means, on claims, on education, on judiciary, on military affairs, on roads, and highways, on engrossed bills, on enrolled bills, on Indian affairs, on commerce and manufactures, on fisheries, on printing and supplies, on railroads, on corporations other than municipal and railroads, on counties and county lines, on rules and order, on agriculture, on insurance, on hospitals for the insane, on public buildings, grounds and state library, on the Washington school for defective youths, on mines and mining, on the penitentiary, on county and municipal indebtedness on revenue, on water, water rights and irrigation, on mileage and contingent expenses, on harbors and navigable waters, on state lands, on school lands, on tide lands, on medicine, surgery and public hygiene, on state university and normal schools, on municipal corporations, on forestry, on assessment and taxation, and on the compensation and fees of state and county officers. The committee recommended that the committees consist of not less than three or more than nine members. After considerable debate the report was adopted.

Hughes, Pickrell and Lull were appointed on the joint committee on printing.

Speaker Feighan appointed Shaw, Turner, Judson of Pierce, Hughes, Judson of Whatcom, Megler and Cornwell a committee on rules.

Cook's motion to prohibit smoking in the house during recess was carried.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

When the senate met, Rhinehart complained that the night watchman was not doing his duty, and he made a motion that he be summoned before the bar and publicly reprimanded.

Yong made an explanation of the conduct complained of by the senator from King and the motion was lost.

Owings, Luce and Hyde were instructed to procure suitable rooms for the committees.

The house resolution calling for a joint committee to fix the salaries of employes of the legislature was concurred in. Kneeland, Long, Watt, Hunsaker and Payne were put on the committee.

Senator Houghton presented a resolution from the Lincoln post of colored Grand Army men of Spokane, thanking the senate for giving offices to colored men.

Adjourned.

SENATORIAL GOSSIP.

The Relative Chances of the Respective Candidates Discussed.

Many members of the legislature left the city after the adjournment this morning, and the different senatorial headquarters are again comparatively deserted, only the trusted lieutenants of the aspirants remaining. Governor Squire has been down with the asthma all day, and has been missed from his headquarters. He had quite a severe attack during the night. Walter J. Thompson will go to Tacoma to-morrow to visit his father who has been quite ill. The senatorial fight is now in its final stage. The adherents of Thompson, Sprague, Brents and Turner are improving the recess by exerting every effort to defeat Allen and Squire, whose election up to this time has seemed certain. Thompson claims the victory in Western Washington, and Turner in Eastern Washington.

It is practically Turner against Allen on the east side. Brents, though he has not withdrawn, is virtually out of the fight. He has been encouraging his men, at least those of them whom he can deliver, to support Turner and work for him. Turner's friends charge that Allen is backed and supported by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, and claim that he has lost considerably by the knowledge of this fact. Mr. Allen denied to-night that the Northern Pacific had a hand in his candidacy, and said that there was absolutely no truth in the assertion that a breach had been made in his ranks. He heard this afternoon that a representative from one of the Columbia river counties had bolted him, because he was the railroad candidate, but on investigation he found that the legislator was still among his friends. The Allen men get back at the opposition by asserting that Turner is losing ground, as evidenced by the unsettled condition of the affairs of the Spokane delegation and the fact that several members from that county will not vote for him.

Now that the time of electing senators has been settled upon, more or less to the satisfaction of all concerned, the opponents of Allen and Squire have raised another point. It is quite likely that the two senators will be voted for at the same time, and that is what they don't want. Some of them say that if it is not illegal it is unfair, and if they are strong enough to have things their own way next Tuesday only one will be elected at a time. Walter J. Thompson has ingeniously figured out that if a double election occurs it is possible to give three men a majority of the votes cast. He does it in this way: There are 105 members in the legislature, and each will vote for two senators, making 210 votes in all. Supposing the first 35 votes are for Allen and Thompson, and the second 35 for Squire and Thompson, and the third 35 for Allen and Squire, that would give each 70 votes. Of course such a thing is possible, but not probable. It is only a ruse of the opposition to the election of the leaders.

Mr. Allen was asked to-night whether he preferred a single or a double ballot. "I am perfectly indifferent," he said. "My friends are so sure of my election that they do not care how the ballot-ing is done."

THERE MAY BE AN ELECTION IN 1891.

Washington may have to elect one and perhaps two senators in 1891. Those to be chosen at the present session of the legislature will have to trust to luck for the length of their terms in the reorganization of the United States senate, which will take place when they present their credentials at Washington this winter. The constitution requires the senate to be divided as nearly as possible into three equal classes, with a difference of two years between the expiration of each. For example, the terms of the senators now in office will expire in 1891, 1893 and 1895, respectively. There are twenty-five senators in each of the first two classes, and twenty-six in the third. When congress meets in December there will be eight new senators, three of which will go into the '91 class, three into the '93 class and two into the '95 class, making twenty-eight in each class. The laws of the country make no provision for long and short terms, and the eight new senators will have to draw lots for their respective assignments. The Washington senators-elect will stand as good a show as the others of drawing long terms.

JUDGE TURNER'S ABILITY RECOGNIZED.

Judge Turner, of Spokane Falls, is regarded by all as the ablest of the senatorial aspirants. He is a tall, finely moulded man, of commanding presence, and his general demeanor and appearance are such that one cannot help but admire him. He is one of the best lawyers in the state, and is a good common sense talker of the analytical order. There is nothing bombastic or ostentatious about him: in fact, he is so much the opposite that it has been charged that he is not convivial, not even genial. He rarely says anything of his candidacy, while the others, with the exception of General Sprague, are continually urging their claims. Judge Turner's candidacy has been a big advertisement for him. He has many friends among those who recognize his ability, and had he begun his fight before so many had pledged their votes to Allen it is not unlikely that he would have secured the first option on the east side senatorship. Judge Turner is a young man yet, being just a little more than old enough to be eligible to the senatorship. Some day the people of Eastern Washington will demand him for senator and he will be elected.

HOW THE FIGHT IS CONDUCTED.

Were the senatorial aspirants of Oregon to swoop down on Salem and make their fights in the way the Washington candidates have been carrying the war into Africa here for nearly two weeks, the good people of the state would be shocked and the prohibitionists would be tempted to meet and pass the proverbial resolution:

"WHEREAS, God made the world for the saints, be it

Resolved, That we are the saints."

Each candidate has established his headquarters where his workers and callers are supplied with cigars, and in most of them drinkables are dealt out.

Ex-Governor Squire has the largest and most luxurious quarters. He is established in Temple Flat, located in the I. O. O. F. building. He and his friends have several rooms, and whoever calls is made to feel at home. Governor Squire keeps the best of everything. Among the many who frequent his headquarters are Dr. Sparling, H. G. Struve and Sheriff McGraw, of Seattle.

A very affable, young colored man welcomes visitors to Walter J. Thompson's headquarters in the Chambers' block, where the Tacoma banker has a suite of rooms. A warm fire glows in the fireplace in the general meeting room, which is always crowded, probably because it is where the cigars are kept. Mr. Thompson holds private consultations with his workers in the other rooms.

So far the fight has been conducted without personal vilification and one hears much of the virtues and abilities and little or nothing of the defects of the several candidates.

RESENTS THE IMPUTATION.

Governor Moore has been greatly annoyed by the imputation that he is, by reason of the omission of his name from the certificate accompanying the official copy of the constitution, responsible for the delay in the issuance of the proclamation. It has been held by Justices Hoyt, Scott and Dunbar, of the supreme court, and Governor-elect Ferry that the certificate which Governor Moore sent with the pamphlet copies of the constitution was complete, and that the most that could be urged against it was that it was not attached to the official copy of the constitution by a paper fastener. "I do not think it fair that I should rest under the imputation of carelessness," said Governor Moore to-night. "I resent it, and charge President Harrison and his officers with the responsibility."

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURATION.

The programme of the inauguration ceremonies for next Monday will be fully arranged at the meeting of the different committees appointed for the purpose to-morrow night. It is proposed to have a civic and military parade, which will form in the city and march to the statehouse at 11 A. M., where it will be met by Governor-elect Ferry and other state officers and the retiring territorial officers. A platform will be erected on the capitol grounds, where Chief Justice Anders will administer the oath to Governor Ferry at noon, after which Governor Moore will make a few remarks. Governor Ferry will then deliver his inaugural address.

A HYBRID CONVENTION.

Meeting of Visionaries Who Seek to Reform Politics.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—In response to a call for a national convention of political reformers irrespective of party, thirty prohibitionists, twenty-four union labor people, six greenbackers and two republicans assembled at the Central Music hall to-day to talk matters over. The meeting was called to order by Alfred Clark, of Chicago, and various topics were discussed. A call for those who favored equal suffrage for both sexes resulted in everybody standing except one farmer from Iowa. The usual committees were appointed. The object of the convention is to establish a union and consolidation of the forces that possess the law-making power. There is a general feeling against monopolies, the republican and democratic parties and the saloon, and in favor of the ballot and civil service reform reform.

DEDICATORY EXERCISES

The Ceremony Inaugurating the Catholic University.

THE CARDINAL BLESSES THE WORK

A Downpour of Rain Adds a Disagreeable Feature.

THE PRESIDENT AT THE BANQUET

A Number of Distinguished Visitors—Secretary Blaine Responds to the Toast "Our Country and Her President."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The dedication of the Catholic University of America took place in the pouring rain. The ceremonies began with a short address by Cardinal Gibbons, followed by the chanting of "Veni Creator Spiritus" by the students of St. Mary's seminary and St. Charles college, Baltimore. The building was then blessed by Cardinal Gibbons, while the choir chanted "Miserere."

Shortly after 12 o'clock, Most Rev. Monsignor Satolli, archbishop of Lepanto, and the special representative of the pope, began the celebration in the chapel of the Pontifical Mass of the Holy Ghost, assisted by a number of prominent divines. Right Rev. Bishop Gilmour, of Cleveland, preached the sermon. During the celebration of the mass Rev. Father Fidelis (James Kent Stone), superior of the order of passionists in Brazil, addressed an overflowing audience in one of the large lecture rooms. A large part of the ceremonies had to be omitted on account of the inclement weather. A cold, drizzling rain fell during a greater part of the day. The formal procession around the structure was abandoned, but the ceremony of blessing the building was performed by the cardinal passing through the corridors, preceded by acolytes bearing lighted tapers. The exterior and interior decorations were elaborate, and the national colors predominated in everything. Masses of cut flowers, palms and other foliage plants occupied every available space, while flags, both large and small, were draped about the windows and doors and festooned from ceiling and chandeliers. Everywhere throughout the great building, before the ceremonies began, high church dignitaries, laymen, seminarians and representatives of the Franciscan, Dominican and Augustinian orders of monks, each in his distinctive robes of purple, black, white or gray, mingled in picturesque groups.

THE DIVINITY BUILDING.

The Divinity building of the university dedicated occupies a commanding position on a knoll overlooking the lawn and Soldier's Home park. The central portion of the building is five stories high and the remainder four. It is constructed of Georgetown blue gneiss rock, in modernized Romanesque style of architecture. When the entire plan of the university has been carried out there will be seven buildings, which will be grouped about a central park. The Divinity building is the only one erected at present, but sites for the others have been chosen.

THE BANQUET.

Secretaries Blaine, Rusk, Tracy, Noble and Windom and Attorney General Miller arrived in time to participate in the banquet, which took place after 1 o'clock. Covers were laid for 250 guests. Cardinal Gibbons occupied the seat at the head of the table and on his right were Cardinal Taschereau and Archbishops Satolli and Fabre. Cardinal Gibbons's vis-a-vis was Secretary Blaine, who was flanked by Archbishops Ryan, Williams and Duhamel on the left, and Secretaries Tracy, Noble and Rusk on the right.

Bishop Keane acted as toastmaster. The first toast—"His Holiness, Pope Leo XIII," was responded to by Most Rev. Monsignor Satolli, representative of the pope, who spoke in Latin. He said he was glad to see so thoroughly a representative body, for it meant that all nations were working with America for Catholic evangelization.

Secretary Blaine, in responding to the toast, "Our Country and Her President," said: "I come to represent the United States, not in our political sense, much less in any partisan sense, nor in connection with any church or sect, but to speak for all and the great freedom which we enjoy. I have made this statement in Protestant assemblies, and I am glad to make it in Catholic ones." He referred to the administration as one which had produced good results, and continuing, said: "I am glad of every college that is endowed. Every institution of learning increases the culture which I believe will build up the government of this great country of ours, under which all are free and equal." Blaine was loudly cheered during his remarks.

Cardinal Taschereau of Canada, was responding to the toast "Our Sister Universities," when the Marine band struck up "Hail to the Chief," and President Harrison entered the hall. The entire assemblage arose and applauded until the president took the seat reserved for him on the left of Cardinal Gibbons. As soon as the president was seated Bishop Keane proposed his health, which was drank standing. In response to urgent calls for a speech the president said: "I am thankful for the reception you have given me. I have avoided speechmaking heretofore on occasions of this kind. It has been my fortune often to have that covenant broken by being compelled to make a speech. I am sure you will permit me to exact compliance with that covenant and again to simply thank you for your kindly greeting."

Vice President Morton and wife entered the hall just as the president concluded, and were shown seats near Cardinal Gibbons. The next toast, "The Hierarchy of the United States," was responded to by Cardinal Gibbons. Several other addresses were made. The next ceremony was the presentation of a bust of St. Thomas Aquinas, the gift of the Catholics of Great Britain and Ireland in Rome, by Archbishop Satolli. The day's celebration then closed with the inaugural exercises, which took place in the lecture-room.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

Meeting of Interstate Commerce Railway Association.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—At to-day's meeting of the board of managers of the Interstate Commerce Railway Association no reference was made to the Union Pacific Northwestern agreement, but notice will be served these roads that if they expect to be considered members of the association they must file a copy of their contract with Chairman Walker. If this was refused the Rock Island, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific and other companies will cease to abide by the agreement on the ground that it had been willfully broken. If the contract is filed, a special meeting will be called to consider the question of its legality.

STRANGLED TO DEATH.

A Horrible Scene on the Scaffold at Woodbury, N. J.

WOODBURY, N. J., Nov. 13.—Joseph Hillman, murderer of Peter Heidsman, was hanged this morning. The affair was simply butchery. When the rope was cut the knot failed to slip and the body hung in mid-air. Hillman's struggles were terrible; he could almost be heard to speak as he groaned. His hands, although pinioned, he managed to raise nearly to the black cap. The hangman finally lowered the body, readjusted the noose and completed the job.

British Salmon Trespassers on the Sound.

NATIONAL PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY

An Immense Shingle Mill to Be Built at Seattle —Ship-Building Proposed.—Tacoma's Municipal Affairs

PORT TOWNSEND Nov 13.—Information has been filed with the collector of customs at this port that British fishermen are trespassing on American waters and catching fresh salmon for the salmon canneries of Fraser river British Columbia. The British steamers anchor just inside the British line, near Point Roberts, Whatcom county and send small fishing crafts into American bay a mile distant, where the salmon are plentiful and load the boats The fish are then taken to the British Columbia canneries South of Point Roberts the American waters are abundantly supplied with fish Several Puget sound canneries depend on this section for salmon Occasionally British steamers are bold enough to venture into American territory and catch a load of fish, and return unmolested The fishing grounds are one mile from the British line

The customs authorities after the investigation and advice of the department are powerless to interfere with the small British fishing dories in our waters, and the customs force is too small to permit of an officer being stationed to intercept the British steamers. The Puget sound cannery men are strongly protesting against foreign competition claiming that from six to ten steamers with full crews obtained their full supply from Point Roberts last summer and have virtually driven Americans out of their own waters.

THE PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY

Opening of the Convention of the National Grange at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO Cal, Nov 13.—The national grange of the Patrons of Husbandry was called to order at 11 A. M to-day in the assembly chamber of the capital building by Worthy Master F J Brigham of Ohio. Worthy Master Russell and wife of Washington were inaugurated and duly welcomed as representatives of the new state grange of Washington The delegates from the Eastern states were presented with souvenirs by the state grange of California. At the afternoon session, Worthy Master Brigham delivered the annual address He strongly favored further legislation against food adulteration, and recommends greater unity on the part of those opposed to intemperance, and says that the liquor influence cannot be broken until there is such a combination There should be be said more stringent laws against blackmail, and to protect innocent purchasers of patented articles, and the consequent annoyances of litigation The speaker also referred to the evils arising from the abuse of the ballot box He favored the Australian system of voting The reports from the different officers were received and filed To-morrow afternoon an address of welcome will be made by E W Davis, master of the California state grange. The response will be made by Worthy Master Brigham

EVIDENCE ALL IN.

Belief That the Prosecution in the Cronin Murder Case Has Closed.

CHICAGO, Nov 13.—In the Cronin case this morning Judge McConnell decided that the evidence as to the trial and expulsion of Dr Cronin from the Clan na Gael in 1885 was no admissible.

Nothing of importance was developed by witnesses to day and an early recess was taken The impression is that the state's evidence is all in.

At the opening of the afternoon session the state's attorney said the case for the people was closed except the testimony of Clancy, of the New York Herald, who would be here to-morrow On application by the defense for time to prepare its case the court decided to adjourn till Saturday Clancy will testify as to a conversation with O Sullivan

ANOTHER IMPORTANT SUSPECT

CHICAGO, Nov 13 —The Inter Ocean will say to-morrow that another important Cronin suspect has come to light in the person of a former resident of Lakeview, an Irishman named McDonald He is said to now be in Europe and the police are endeavoring to locate him Before the murder it is said the neighbors noticed that McDonald was frequently visited by suspicious looking characters After the disappearance of Cronin McDonald suddenly appeared to be in affluent circumstances and let about a trip to Europe exhibiting steamship tickets May 19 the family disappeared The state's attorney refused to talk about the man

THE LATEST SUSPECT RELEASED

WHO WILL BE SPEAKER?

The Pacific Coast Delegation Divided on the Question.

THE W C T U AND THE BOLTERS

Hawaii Draws Closer Relations—Two Pacific Roads—A New Coaling Station—A New Home for the Democrats.

WASHINGTON Nov 13—The Pacific coast delegation in congress will be divided on the vote for the speakership It is thought that they will stand about as follows McHaven McKenna and Morrow of California will vote for Reed Vandever, of the same state for Cannon Hermann of Oregon for Reed Wilson of Washington for Barrows and Bartine of Nevada for Cannon The second choice of these several members is as follows McKenna Morrow Bartine and Hermann for McKinley Haven and Wilson for Cannon and Vandever for Reed While Reed is ahead in the race the friends of Burrows of Michigan are making a strong fight against Reed because he has uniformly opposed the river and harbor bill

Never have there been so few congressmen in Washington during the November preceding the reorganization of congress The employees of the house say that the absence of many members is due to the desire to keep out of the very inclemental to the speakership canvass and that they will not arrive until their presence is necessary Messrs Conger McKinley Reed Henderson and Burrows are now getting ready for the fight, and it is expected that they will have their headquarters in go d running order within a week while it is still conceded that Reed will have most votes on roll call there is said to be a reaction setting in which makes his very great preeminence a matter of doubt Other candidates are seeing upon the assumption that his boom is fading started to-day will wear itself out before the cauc is They assert that it is already be gun to drop It looks now as though the whole field of candidates will combine against Reed and that if he is not elected before the tenth ballot he will not be elected at all

THE W C T U

The Iowa Bolt—A New Prohibition League in Contemplation

CHICAGO Nov 13.—At a meeting of the executive board of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to day at which Miss Willard presided the bolt of the Iowa delegation was discussed. Mrs L D Carhart of Marion Ia., was installed as provisional member in place of the bolter The board adopted a plan of reorganization for Iowa

About fifty ladies delegates to the national convention of the W C T U held a meeting at the Palmer house this morning in response to a call issued by Mrs Watson of Pittsburg the object of the meeting being to organize a new woman's temperance society according to the ideas advanced by Mrs Foster and others in opposition to the ideas of Miss Willard and her followers A provisional committee of seven was chosen to prepare an address to the country and to perfect a plan of organization Mrs Hibbard, of Cleveland was selected as chairman, it being impossible for Mrs Foster to accept the position owing to a large amount of other work on her hands She will however give the movement her most cordial support in all directions The committee probably will not issue their address for several weeks and after it has been given to the world it will be made for a national convention A local paper says to-night that the bolt of the Iowans and the new movement created considerable discussion about the quarters of the W C T U It was plain it said that the delegates to the convention were sorry enough that the trouble had reached the conclusion it did The vote on Miss Willard as re-election does not express the feelings of all on the subject of partisanship and non partisanship, and it is not unlikely that Mrs Foster will in time get quite a following from ladies who have previously followed Miss Willard's fortunes and ideas. The split however, will not come until Mrs. Foster's following has thoroughly organized and their principles declared

MRS J ELLEN FOSTER'S VIEWS

CHICAGO Nov 13.—Mrs J Ellen Foster, speaking this evening of the withdrawal of the Iowa delegation from the W C T U convention last night said the members deeply regretted being compelled to take such a course but none other was left open to them They are still constitution ally auxiliary to the National and must remain so until the next annual meeting of Iowa society The provisional committee to-day appointed by the non partisan women will begin its work at once. They will make no war upon the old society and wish it success in its many lines of Christian work There are, however large numbers of women who wish to do temperance work and will not consent to the mortgage of their individuality to the 'Hundreds of ministers who cannot give their support to a partisan organization have urged us to the step we have taken added Mrs. Foster 'One myself a prohibitionist will greatly modify the partisan course of the National Party in the lines of partisanship and non partisanship being definitely drawn will force many women to think, critically and come to logical conclusions.'

HAWAII'S DESIRES

She is Anxious for Closer Relations with the United States.

WASHINGTON Nov 13—H A P Carter, the Hawaiian minister, who recently returned to Washington after a visit to his home in Honolulu in an interview, had his attention called to what had been telegraphed from San Francisco on his arrival there, concerning the future diplomatic and treaty relations between the United States and his government. Carter replied that it was desired on the part of his government to have closer relations between the Hawaiian kingdom and the United States. The minister was asked if anything had been done officially to formulate the wish of his country Carter replied 'I have not as yet formally presented any propositions to the secretary of state but I expect to do so The propositions will be four.

'First—The continuance of the present treaties in force and making them terminable only after a mutual conference instead of one year's peremptory notice by either party

'Second—That the country shall treat the articles which under a reciprocity treaty, it admits free of duty precisely as if the proposition originated in the country so admitting them

'Third—Providing that whenever congress shall desire an extension of the principle of reciprocity in trade, it may be had, even to the extent of abolishing all duties between the two countries, except upon articles such as opium and spirits.

'Fourth—That the United States guarantees the independence of Hawaii and to enable her to do this without danger of complication Hawaii agrees to make no treaties without the knowledge of the United States

'We think there are good and urgent reasons why these propositions should take the form of treaty engagements

THE PACIFIC RAILROADS.

The Senatorial Committee Will Probably Recommend an Extension of Time.

KANSAS CITY Nov 13.—The senatorial committee to investigate the Pacific railroads arrived here this morning They were delayed by snow storms in Western Kansas. They spent the day inspecting the Union Pacific terminals here. In an interview this evening Senator Frye said two things had been determined upon by the investigation First the government's security for the debt of the Pacific roads was ample, second the business of the roads indicated that the debts could be paid if a reasonable extension were given by the government It was probable, therefore that the committee would recommend an extension of time any fifty years during which the debts could be lifted the retirement of debts to be by annual payments based on a certain percentage of the net earnings of the roads

A NEW COALING STATION.

The Proposition to Purchase a Site on the Hawaiian Islands

WASHINGTON, Nov 13.—The recent consideration by the secretary of state and the secretary of the navy of a proposition to purchase a site for a coaling station on the Hawaiian Islands, for which the United States holds the exclusive right under a treaty negotiated by Secretary Frelinghuysen and Minister Carter, and promulgated in 1887 has drawn attention anew to legislation for the protection of the interests of the United States in the Pacific Shortly before the close of the fiftieth congress an appropriation was made to be distributed by the president for the protection of American interests in Samoa. This fund has something of a confidential nature and it may be that a detailed report of disbursements will not be made so far as known the only charges against it are the expenses of the Samoan commission at Berlin last spring the cost of sending home the sailors, both Germans and American wrecked in the storm at Apia last March and the expense of sending gifts to the Samoans who distinguished themselves by their bravery and service on the occasion of that storm in rescuing and succoring those in distress. An appropriation of $100 000 was also made about the same time toward establishing a coal station at Pago Pago Samoa. Of this sum nothing has been expended yet A purchase was made of 20 000 tons of coal at a cost of $1 ,000 which is stored there but it has not yet been decided whether to charge the cost to the special appropriation or to the regular naval appropriation for the purchase of coal Admiral Kimberly has made a survey and report upon a site for the proposed station, which is now before Secretary Tracy for his consideration

A DYED-IN-THE-WOOL REPUBLICAN

That is What Wanamaker Says He Is, and He Will Reform the Railway Mail Service

WASHINGTON Nov 13—In an interview with a number of the leading postmasters of the country here recently Postmaster General Wanamaker is reported to have said I am not a mugwump in any sense of the word gentlemen but a dyed in the wool republican and I propose to inject the postal service by every means that lies in my power Still politics will have no effect in determining my course, but I want to say to you, democrats and republicans alike that there is no necessity for radical reform in the railway mail service it matters not to me if a man can talk all day about cube and square root theorems in geometry and climatic effects in Africa or Asia so long as he does not thoroughly know the section of country through which his postal car is running I would sooner have a postal clerk who knows every nook and corner in his district than some theorist who could tell about geographical matters remote from his own country and I shall recommend to congress that the civil service examinations be modified to this extent

SMOKELESS POWDER.

The Chief of Ordnance Discusses the Subject in His Report

WASHINGTON Nov 13.—The subject of smokeless powder for military uses occupies considerable space in the annual report of Brigadier General Benet chief of ordnance. He says in part "No American has yet submitted for trial smokeless powder and experiment with compressed powders has shown some uncertainty as developed abroad tending to destroy confidence in the final production of a serviceable compressed powder cartridge There is reason to believe from an application made to an officer of the ordnance department more than ten years ago that smokeless powder originated in America, only to be brought to the attention of the world in foreign countries. In view of the present status of the powder question it is not deemed expedient to produce a small caliber rifle for compressed powder cartridges. Such a rifle however excellent in itself, would be inferior to foreign arms using smokeless powder, and consequently manufactures to the army and country at large It is believed however that the attention expecting into too problem except the powder ready for use the moment this powder is obtained

THE SILVER CONVENTION.

St Louis Favored as the Location for the World's Fair.

DENVER, Col., Nov 13.—As the silver convention progresses it increases in interest. Delegates keep pouring in, and it is a novelty to see people of all political faiths working hand in hand on any particular question Free and unlimited coinage is the war cry alike of republicans, democrats and prohibitionists. The fact that the people of St. Louis saw fit to take the initiative in this move has worked to its good in that resolutions were adopted to-day favoring that place for the world's fair Another resolution adopted recommends congress to provide for the coinage of at least $1 000 000 of silver each month. Judge Symes and other gentlemen have made eloquent speeches. It is not likely the convention will conclude its labors before to-morrow night

THE ONE-MILL RATE RUINOUS

Full Text of the Preamble and Resolutions Adopted by the Executive Committee of the Western Union Telegraph Company

NEW YORK Nov 13—In the matter of Western Union Telegraph Company vs Postmaster General Wanamaker requesting a long explanation from Norvin Green, president of the telegraph company, to be heard of the postoffice department, it was given to the press to day by President Green enters a most emphatic protest against the one mill rate established by the postmaster general, and states that the executive committee of the board of directors has unanimously expressed itself in a preamble and resolutions which he appended to his letter He claims that the rate involves an average reduction of a fraction over 40 per cent. On messages transmitted less than 400 miles the reduction would be 50 per cent He states further

If the entire message business of the company for the fiscal year just closed has been at the rates named in your circular our total receipts from that source would have been about $4 030 000 less than the actual cost to us of transacting that business. If the messages sent by the government were equal in point for the several distances the rate named in your circular would average 10 cents for the minimum message of ten words words estimating ten words free for address and signature, but as very much the greater number would be sent distances under 400 miles and at the lowest rate established it is probable that an average of 15 cents would allow for two or three additional words in each message If the whole of the 4 108 26 messages sent during the last fiscal year had paid us but an average of 1 cent a, the aggregate revenue for transmitting those messages would have been $4 108 26 93. Our total expenses were $14 6 12 85. After deducting from the expenses the amount paid other lines the refunds and uncollected items the rental and operating cost of our Atlantic and Cuba cables the cost of maintaining leased lines and the rentals for and expenses of the gold and stock and commercial news department there are still left as expenditures still fairly pertaining to the handling of messages $2 12 61 61. which 10 cent on revenue at the rates you name would leave over $1 000 000

Even if the government messages were much longer than I estimate and should yield which is scarcely possible an average of 50 cents each and all of the business were done at that rate, there would still be a deficit of about $2 000 000 in that department of our service

President Green then goes on to enumerate many of the difficulties and dangers the telegraph company is obliged to overcome in its efforts to furnish the public with satisfactory electric service and has particular stress upon the fact that though a company formed for the sole purpose of forcing an older company to buy it up may agree to transmit government messages at a ruinous rate It was not just to seize upon such transient and isolated features in establishing a permanent rate of compensation With regard to the suggestion of the postmaster general for a board of arbitration we quote Mr Green verbatim

The further course you suggest of a board of arbitration is within what we have always proffered We have been ready always to supply to the incumbent of your office the fullest opportunity for search into the cost of telegraphic business, and to accept freely his impartial judgment If we prefer to delegate that judgment to a board consisting of two jurors, leaving the rates for this year to be governed by that result, we shall be glad to meet it"

Following are the preamble and resolutions accompanying President Green's letter passed by the executive committee November 6 1889

WHEREAS On the 29th day of June, 1889 the postmaster general of the United States officially announced to the telegraph companies in support of an assertion the provisions of the act of July 24, 1888 they would be required to transmit the official messages of the United States for a compensation of 1 mill per word with account with regard to distance a price which could in no case be said to compensate the service and,

WHEREAS On the 30th of October 1889, the postmaster general by public circular set forth, as established under the provisions of said acts, which rates are about one hundredth below the necessary cost to this company and to others of transmitting the messages of the United States, and,

WHEREAS, This company is obliged to consider the enforcement of said rates as a confiscation of its property to that extent and it is of such obvious injustice under said act is remedial at law

Resolved That this company will transmit as heretofore, with due promptness all official telegrams between the several departments of the government and their officers and agents, but this company will not accept as final payment the rates established until its rights in that regard have received such further consideration as it may be able to secure, and the president of this company is hereby directed to file a copy of this, our protest, with the heads of the several executive departments of the United States.

SAN FRANCISCO

DR. LANGER.

So says Chief Scannell, and with his long and varied experience in matters pertaining to conflagrations, we naturally give him the benefit of the doubt We, as tax payers, property owners and citizens, are deeply interested in this impending and sure-to-come danger. We hate to feel that when we leave our cosy homes in the morning that there is any such a thing as their being in ruins when we return. The cry is, more hose, more engines, more men that can be enlisted and paid to remain at the engine-houses of the fire department, which means more strength to aid in putting down this terrible conflagration when it does come. Now, strength is what everything has to have to do service in a greater or less degree. Man acquires this much-needed strength by various means. Exercise, plenty of fresh air, good food, eaten at regular intervals, and the use of the GREAT SIERRA KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE. A man may look ever so healthy and think himself in the best of conditions, and yet have diseased kidneys. Anatomical science treats that the kidneys are so poorly supplied with nerves of sensation that when disease first starts they can sound no alarm. For that reason it behooves us to be very watchful, and by the use of the never-failing remedy, THE GREAT SIERRA KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE, keep these important organs of existence in perfect health.

Don't you, and is it not necessary that all prudent and economical people shall always aim to get the best value and greatest worth for capital expended? Is not this the law you apply to labor? The greatest return for labor expended.

And why disregard this maxim in spending the fruits of labor? "A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLLAR EARNED."

Now, we don't pose as sages, but demonstrators of prudence, facts and common sense. The reputation of this house for a quarter of a century has been the leaders of low prices and good values. We don't argue to prove this. You, the people of Portland, is our best argument and strongest defense of our claim, the leaders of good values and low prices.

The London correspondent of the Northwestern Miller, writing under date of October 19, has the following on the wheat situation:

The wheat trade has become much quieter here during the week, and prices have gradually lost 6d per qr of the recent advance. Not that there has been any great change in the position of the article. The quantity afloat for Europe remains, in fact, nearly 1,000,000 bus less than last year, the visible supply in America is 12,000,000 bus less, the stock of Indian is 5,000,000 bus, against 8,000,000 bus, and the stock in France is also considerably less, while the "consumption" is 1,000,000 bus, against 4,640,000 bus, and supplies in sight in the United Kingdom are but 15,... ...bushels, against 18,680,000 bus. Notwithstanding all these facts, however, buyers hold aloof, mainly because the Russian shipments temporarily increased last week, and because some highly sensational reports came to hand regarding the final outturn of the American crop, which, according to some authorities, was expected, after all, to reach a total of 525,000,000 bushels. On the other hand, the majority of people here look upon the October reports of the Washington bureau as increasing a crop of 455,000,000 measured bushels, or say 380,000,000 bushels of 60 pounds, against 391,... ...bushels of 60 pounds last year. This latter estimate is thought to be remarked, the exact one which was adopted by reasonable people six weeks ago. It seems to be expected that the shipments from the Pacific coast will now be increasing fast, and will now swell the quantity until rapidly, while it is also expected that the Russian shipments will maintain a higher level than has been the case so far this season. Since September 1 the shipments from Russia compare ...ourably with those of last year:

Week ending—	1889. Bus.	1888. Bus.
Sept. 7	1,600,000	2,600,000
Sept. 14	2,263,448	2,936,912
Sept. 21	1,576,912	3,138,296
Sept. 28	1,725,920	3,058,256
Oct. 5	1,256,256	2,925,696
Oct. 12	1,062,144	2,200,256
Total, six weeks	9,479,080	16,855,840

There we have a decrease of nearly 50 per cent. compared with last year, the average weekly shipments being 1,579,840 bushels this year, against 2,809,306 bushels last year. Shipments during the autumn months are always the largest of the season, but, further, I do not expect that the average for the season will exceed that shown above since September 1, viz., about 1,500,000 bushels per week, and as the continent, especially Russia and France, will have to increase its purchases in England, similar to that of last year and the previous year, is not to be expected. Russia, however, France continues to quote lower than below our level, and our own supplies of home-grown wheat are so large as to allow of its being sold very cheap. That a rise in these latter, which may now at any time be expected, would lead to renewed business in our winter supplies are by no means small, unless we draw upon our already very reduced stocks in first hands. California cargoes for prompt shipment are now obtainable at 30s, and cool cargoes are worth about the same per bag red winter for prompt shipment finds buyers at 32s, which is the price asked. Our millers, who find the quality of the new winter wheat far from favorable, do not, in consequence, care to buy that variety. We had, however, a fine sample of No. 2 soft winter wheat offered us on our market last week, which was from Toledo by the secretary of the Toledo Produce Exchange, and which was considered to be 1s per quarter above the "ordinary No. 2 red" standard. The statistical position of wheat is also in the principal centers on Oct. 1, as compared with last year, was as follows:

	1889. Bus.	1888. Bus.
Afloat for Europe, wheat and flour	14,120,000	23,592,000
Held in first hands in United Kingdom	14,800,000	16,000,000
Visible supply in United States (Bradstreet's returns)	26,728,000	37,164,000
Stock in Canada	4,800,000	8,000,000
Stock in French ports	6,120,000	4,640,000
Stock in Paris	960,000	3,320,000
Stock in Berlin, Danzig and Konigsberg	2,440,000	1,816,000
Total Oct. 1	69,968,000	93,632,000
Total Sept. 1	66,808,000	83,792,000
Total Aug. 1	69,016,000	103,744,000
Total July 1	121,872,000	115,680,000

Thus we have a decrease since the beginning of July of 52,000,000 bushels, against only 22,000,... ...bushels last year.

A company has been formed to work the "explosive" of the Star Slocum Company, of Minneapolis, and of G. W. Van Vleet & Co., of Spokane Falls, with a capital of $500,000 in shares. The capital is more than 15 per cent., and the public is invited to take up shares.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—Produce receipts past twenty-four hours include: Wheat, 101,000 ctls; flour, 19,600 qr sks; oats, 6400 ctls; potatoes, 3100 sks; barley, 7600 ctls.

Freights and Charters—The movement in coal and lumber freights is active at satisfactory rates. Grain tonnage is dull and weak. The British Thessalus, iron, 1782 tons, accepted an offer of 32s 6d for wheat to U. K. Havre or Antwerp. Coal charters embrace the ship Abner Coburn, Seattle to San Francisco, and the bark Thetbuld, also for this port.

The following vessels were taken to load lumber on Puget sound for ports mentioned below: Br bk Dunsteffnage to Valparaiso. Br bk Bay of Fundy to Montevideo, and ship W. A. Campbell for Callao.

Wheat—Spot market quiet; not much demand for export, shippers being well supplied for present wants, and little encouragement found in foreign advices to operate ahead. Offerings, although largely made up of small parcels, amount to considerable in the aggregate. The undertone is rather better than noted yesterday, partly owing to a hardening of prices on the call board. We quote: No. shipping $1 30@1 31½, milling $1 32½@1 33¾.

Futures—Firmer, under light trading; 1100 tons buyer year sold on morning call at $1 32, closing on afternoon call at the same figures. Buyer the season sold at $1 40@1 46¾.

Barley—Generally held at full prices, and in spite of a lack of buying orders the feeling grows that the decline is checked and a better demand will ispring up ere long. Small lots of choice feed sold in a jobbing way at 82½c. Quote: No. 1 feed 78½@80; choice to fancy, 82½@85; common feed, 72½@77½c; brewing 82½@$1; chevalier, $1@1 20 per cental. Futures—Slow, buyer season, 90½c.

Oats—Buyers are asking concessions on current quotations owing to recent liberal receipts, and surface indications point to an earlier undertone and in some instances a shading of rates, some consignors preferring to market their product in preference to warehousing. Quote: choice, $1 50@1 52½; No. 1 feed, $1 37½@1 39; No. 2 feed, $1 20@1 22½; lower grades, $1 10@1 17½; milling, $1 32½@1 35; surprise, $1 35@1 37½.

Bran—Quiet; demand not stimulated by the decline. Quote, range for all kinds, $12@14 per ton.

Middlings—Well held, with a fair demand; $15 @19 per ton.

Quinoa—Brisk demand for sound qualities, at 50@60c per cental.

Potatoes—Stocks adequate to meet all demands, and prices easy. Burbanks, 80c@$1; Early Rose, 50@60c; Peerless, 60@90c.

Hops—Nominally nominal at 6@8c per pound. Wool—Steady; prices unaltered.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET REVIEW.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—All trade interrupted by the unprecedented October storm has been renewed. The holiday trade is now well under way, although not yet up to its full volume. Money is firm, and is loaned on good commercial paper at 7 and 8 per cent.

Silver continues to rise, and is now quoted at 96½ and 96¾ cents per ounce, which is a pronounced advance over the price of a few weeks ago.

All cereals are quiet, and several are dull. From wheat down through the list there is no particular change from last week.

Bran has again been marked down, but middlings are scarce and firm.

Exports of wheat and flour from this port thus far this year are larger than during the same period last year. The shipments of flour during the first four months of the crop year were 427,725 barrels, against 201,200 during the same time last year, and 238,630 in 1887.

Produce was not very interesting last week. Flour has continued firm and scored another small advance, common grades remaining steady. Potatoes are steady, with ample supplies. Good onions have gone up a few cents. All descriptions of butter have declined, and the market is weak and dull at the break, which averages 2½ cents per pound. The supplies are too large for the market. California eggs show no change, but Eastern have declined 2½ cents per dozen under increased arrivals. Honey is quiet.

The poultry market is now surcharged with piles of Eastern poultry which cannot be sold, and the prices for hens and roosters continue low.

Ducks and geese are in demand and are higher. The Thanksgiving demand for turkeys has not yet appeared.

Hops continue lifeless.

Dried fruits are generally in fair demand, at the prices which have ruled for a month past.

Beef is higher, choice cattle being scarce, although common stock is abundant enough.

Mutton is firm and lamb is half a cent higher under light stocks.

Hogs are arriving freely, but are no lower.

Veal shows no change.

Sugar is weak and somewhat nominal at lower prices than have been quoted. The refineries are not hauling any lists at present, and the jobbers largely make the prices.

Provisions are in fair movement, and prices show little variation.

Canned fruits are dull at last week's figures. There is plenty of stock on hand, although no overstock.

The receipts of Alaskan salmon up to date amount to nearly 617,000 cases, which is far larger than the total Alaskan pack was set down at some months ago. The Alaskan pack this year is heavier than ever before, the next largest receipts at this port being 852,800 cases.

Coal is firm, but the supplies are larger than was anticipated several months ago. The comparatively genial weather of the past fortnight has been against any sharp demand for house coal. San Francisco is getting very little coal from abroad, and a few years ago the present dearth of foreign grades would have sent coal exceedingly high, but the Pacific coast has vastly increased its production since then, and these coast mines can about supply this city on a pinch. Optimists as to prices this winter vary. The bulls predict an advance of a dollar or so a ton for coast coals, but others in the trade hardly expect higher prices, although nobody looks for a decline.

NEW YORK PRODUCE MARKET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Wheat—The opening was tame, with but slight changes from the previous closing prices. It soon, however, the feeling became strong and prices advanced sharply under liberal buying. Opening prices were 84¾c December, 85½c January, 89½c May. Noon—84⅞c December, 86c May. Closed firm at 84½c November, 84⅞c December, 86¼c January, 87½c February, 88½c March, 90c May.

Freights—The demand for freight room continues light and rates are mostly nominal at 4½d per bushel on grain per steamer to Liverpool.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Hops—Dull.

Coffee—Options opened barely steady and unchanged to 10 points up and closed firm at 70@80 points up. Sales, 52,500 bags. November $15 05; December $15@15 10; January $15@15 15; February, $15 10; May $15@15 20. Spot Rio, firm and fairly active; fair cargoes, 19½c.

Sugar—Raw, firm and in better demand. Sales, 10,000 bags Bahia, 3½ test, $ 15-16; 500 bags centrifugal, 96 test, 5¾c; 86 hogsheads and 11,800 bags molasses, 87 test, 4¼c. Refined, firm and active.

Petroleum—Opened steady at 108 and remained quiet at about that figure until the last hour, when buying by Standard Oil brokers caused a sharp advance, on which the market closed strong at 110. Stock Exchange—Opening 108¾; highest 110, lowest, 107¾; closing, 110. Consolidated Exchange—Opening at 108¾; highest 110¾, lowest, 107¾; closing, 110¾. Total sales, 866,000 barrels.

Copper—Strong and quieter; Lake, November, $12 75.

Lead—Quiet and weaker; Domestic, $3 82½.

Tin—Dull and heavy; Straits, $21 90.

Bar silver—94¾.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Wheat—The bullish feeling was very pronounced to-day and prices advanced steadily from the start. Active buying for "long" account, assisted by covering of shorts, made a strong closing. December opened at 80⅞c, January 81c, May 84½c. At noon December sold at 81¾c, January 81¾c, May 84¾c. Closing at November 81c, December 81⅞c, January 81½c, May 85⅜c.

Wheat receipts during the past twenty-four hours, at the seven principal points east of the Rocky mountains were 225,000 bushels and shipments 440,000 bushels.

Provisions—Pork—Very firm; $9 65 November. Lard—Easier; $5 90 November. Ribs—Steady; $5 35 November.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Cattle—Receipts, 16,000; market dull and 10c lower; choice to extra beeves, $4 80@5 10; steers, $3@4 60; stockers and feeders $1 80@3; mixed, $1 20@2 20; Texas cattle, $1 50@2 80; Western rangers, $2@3 40.

Hogs—Receipts, 36,000; market active and 5c lower; mixed, $3 70@3 95; heavy, $3 65@3 90; light, $3 70@4 00.

Sheep—Receipts, 8000; market steady; natives, $2 75@4 25; Texans, $2 20@4 10.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

BREADSTUFFS GRAIN MARKET.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Wheat cargoes on sale off coast; nothing offering.

Cargoes on passage—Red wheat, firmly held; white wheat, dull.

Mark Lane—English and foreign wheat steadier; English and American flour steadier.

California cargoes nearly due, 35s 6d; ditto prompt shipment, 34s 9d per quarter.

English country markets, slow.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 13.—Spot wheat market rather firmer. Futures steady; No. 1 California, 7s 1½d November and December, 7s 1½d January and February, 7s 1d March and April.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Spot wheat and flour markets, firm. French country markets slow.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 13.—Wheat—Steady; holders offer moderately.

Corn—Steady; demand fair.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, THURSDAY, NOV. 14.

The new life saving station at Fort Stevens is about completed

A Tacoma lady calls her husband Pasco because he is so giddy she has to keep her eye on him.

The horticulturists of Walla Walla will have a basket picnic at their next meeting on November 16.

There are in Idaho over 600 separate irrigating ditches, with a total length of main line of over 1800 miles.

The cable for the Tillamook rock telegraph line, if delayed in arrival much longer can hardly be laid this season.

The Baker City councilmen have voted themselves a salary of sixty dollars each for the year The mayor gets the same.

J. M Vaughn formerly of Portland, has sold the Harney Valley News to a company composed of a number of the leading citizens of Harney county and his connection with the paper now ceases.

A Pendleton man drank a gallon of mineral water at one sitting, on a wager, Sunday. We have several citizens says the East Oregonian, who can easily dispose of a gallon of beer, but the above feat is considered something extraordinary

Over 300 head of cattle have been rounded up on the Umatilla reservation by the Indian police This week a grand round up of horses will take place Uncle Sam's edict that the green grass on the reservation shall grow for the Indian alone is being strictly enforced.

John B Irwin, one of the pioneers of Eastern Oregon has discovered one of the richest free gold properties ever found in the state, in Union county The quantity is large, and the best judges say it is a free milling composition of at least $100 to the ton in gold.

J. W. Haddack, a six years' resident of Prineville, died there after an illness of three weeks, from lung fever The deceased was aged 62 years, an architect and builder by profession, and came to this place from the state of Pennsylvania. He has no relatives in this state

Hon. L B Ison has been conveyed to his home at Baker City. He is still very sick, and Baker physicians assert that he is suffering from cancer of the stomach. Hon Jas. A Tee will probably hold the December term of court in Baker county in Judge Ison's stead

At the meeting of the Southern Oregon Presbytery, held in Roseburg it was decided to take into consideration the building of a college at some point in Southern Oregon, within the bounds of the presbytery The choice of location will be between Roseburg, Grant's Pass, Medford and Jacksonville.

It is a little singular that the line of the Astoria & South Coast road from Sackett's mill up Lewis and Clarke's, says the Astorian, lies through a fine region that has never had a wagon road, and that the first thoroughfare to supersede an elk trail is a steel rail, well ballasted broad gauge transcontinental railroad.

E. D. Sloan, of Klamath agency, found recently in a cremation mound on the Klamath Indian reservation a Harrison badge of the campaign of 1841 The "log cabin" and profile view of General Harrison show quite plainly. Probably these Indians got the badge from General J C Fremont's party when they traveled through that country

The Astoria and South Coast railway graders are hard at work on the Hillsboro end of the road, to the eastward of the town. As a result that hitherto sleepy hamlet of Washington county is experiencing quite a modern boom. Everybody that visits the town inquires the price of property, and sixty-eight houses have been built this season

The third in the series of Farmers' Institutes of this season, begins at Pendleton to day. A number of the most prominent specialists in the state are announced to present papers on agricultural subjects and topics pertaining thereto, and open and free discussion upon all papers is invited Properly conducted, these institutes will be of great value to the farmers of the state

Yamhill county was always aggressive And now it has discovered that the boundary line of that county is located so far west that it includes a strip of territory about three miles wide west of the Grande Ronde Indian reservation, thus leaving Tillamook county only a little over six miles wide, from the eastern boundary to the coast in the Nestucca country, and almost cutting the county in two

Several valuable ledges of gold ore have been discovered on the East Eagle about six miles north of Sanger, in Union county, which have attracted considerable attention and numerous prospectors, mining men and speculators have gone in there, several parties from Sparta and Baker City taking in supplies for the winter One ledge assays $121 to the ton of average rock Three ledges have been bonded for $21 000

A. G. A. R post has been organized at Juneau. A move of this kind has been on foot several months, but owing to the fact that it was not possible to get the required number together it was not done until about two weeks ago. The post has been named Seward No. 36, in honor of William Seward, the purchaser of Alaska for the United States. The comrades were mustered in at the Masonic hall by Captain J T Martin.—Juneau Mining Record.

Now and then an Astoria paper finds itself betrayed into saying a good thing for Portland in spite of itself. The Pioneer, in an article booming its own town, which, by the way, is one of the most rapidly growing cities in the state, incidentally says "A person visiting Portland cannot but be impressed with the fact that it is getting to be a great city This fact shows itself everywhere The buildings are growing larger and more metropolitan, and the style and character of business is increasing"

The Salem Democrat, of course knows all about the republican candidates that are to be. It says "D P Thompson of Portland E. L. Smith and ex Governor Moody of Wasco, and C C Beckman, of Jacksonville all want to be governor Bob Hendricks of Salem, Peter Hume of Brownsville and J W. Cusick, of Albany, all want to be state treasurer. J F. Halloran of Astoria, and Frank C Baker, of Salem would be willing to be state printer Judge Blackburn of this city, would accept the ermine peculiar to a judge of the supreme court The certainty of election will bring out a rich harvest of candidates."

That was a most playful British skipper who, to celebrate the event of having the governor general of Canada and his party on board, ran the Amphion on a rock near Victoria, B C a few days ago It was an adventure that both the British captain and the governor general will not soon forget. If British warships continue to be laid up for repairs, says the Tacoma News or wholly or partly wrecked, as they have been for some time past, England's navy will soon possess no terrors for countries less ably equipped in that direction. Within the past few months five English warships the Sultan, Anson, Enterprise, Lily and Amphion have all been driven on the rocks by their commanders Britannia may rule the waves, but the rocks get the best of her every time

FROM MR T T GEER.

MACLAY Nov 1.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Until it be once a usual thing for men to gather grapes off thorns and figs from thistles, we have no right to expect an intelligent discussion of the temperance question from those who prefer free whisky to any kind of license therefore I shall try to confine this article of yours to reply to Mr Robertson's slanderous reponsder and to Mr Miller's two columns reply to his letter.

The greatest surprise to me, however was to discover that the Regis is still published It seems there is a copy taken in this county and the man who is thus afflicted informed me a few days ago that I had been "burned up" in its columns. It must be a poor kind of satisfaction to "burn up" a man in such a way that your victim never knows it until after he has re covered

The recent election in Iowa makes it necessary to say a word on the utter impracticability of the entire prohibition movement With the defeat of the republican party in that state the prohibition effort has received a banner reverse for even the republican party of Iowa has been virtually a prohibition party all from the day it became to its old time recognized majorities have been gradually but surely diminishing, until the democratic party which especially during the last campaign made a distinct issue with prohibition carries the state the governor of the state and came within a few votes of securing the legislature

No pronounced prohibitionist can rejoice at the result of the recent election in that state for it simply means that the people cannot by their prohibitory laws by means of the republican party they will effect that end by placing the democrats in supreme authority

The two Idahos are merely having the experiment which the New England States are first pronouncing unsatisfactory and which Iowa now after several years trial is on the one of rejecting

It must be fell at after all God's plan of governing men by conscience and not by force is best, and that the churches will be compelled to get follow the advice of many leading divines who declare the prohibition act at war with the teachings of the English pulpit once

Therefore I only desire to refer, in reply to Mr Robertson and Mr Miller, to their charge that in quoting from Proverbs xxxi, I garbled the language

My quotation read as follows Give strong drink unto those that be of heavy hearts let him drink and forget his poverty and remember his misery no more Just preceding this allusion is made to people who are perishing and my two critics insist that the quotation has reference only to those who are in the very act of perishing

But rich people perish quite as often as poor ones, and since men are commanded to drink until they forget their poverty it follows that according to Mr Robertson's interpretation a rich man whom about to perish must be denied the comfort of his text for he has no poverty to forget, and instead of perishing in the usual way might bring about the same result by drinking himself to death In a protracted effort to forget something that didn't exist

Such a forced interpretation as that would be creditable to neither the man making it nor to the author of such a silly text.

But now, here, Mr Robertson and Mr Miller and Irrigator Rork, what are you going to do with the other quotation I make. (Deuteronomy xiv. 26) Thou shalt bestow that money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after for oxen or sheep, or for wine or for strong drink Does that apply only to those who are "perishing" And if so what would a dying man want with silver and gold? Of course a man must be in a bad way when he would be very fit for trade, but I know of no wine and other strong drink, there is instituted a means whose completeness seems entirely unnecessary for a man in the last stages of physical dissolution

Mr Miller refers to the ten commandments as being prohibitory since so many of them commence by saying "Thou shalt not" but they are the very last illustration a prohibitionist should use since there has never been a day during the thousands of years since their promulgation that each of them has not been openly violated multitudes of times Mr Miller can not refer to a single enactment of any state or city in the United States during the past 100 years that has not been better enforced than the ten commandments and the declaration that prohibition doesn't prohibit is illustrated now before every man in their midst

Now, my friends the prohibitionists are very stupid not to have seen that in this discussion I have been showing how inconsistent men are who claim to believe in the interpretation of the Bible and still contend for the removal of temptation among men to do wrong If some of my positions have seemed inconsistent, I have simply attempted what I desired, for no man can shake two gold pieces together and unite with a very

SHORT AND NEWSY ITEMS.

The Time to Be Made Between Portland and Chicago.

Mass Meeting of Colored Citizens—Surveying and Grading—Portland's Pride, the New Hotel—The Railroad Officials Off.

WILL OUR POLICE DO IT?—The proprietor of one of the principal livery stables in the city said yesterday he wished that buck-drivers when driving too fast would be arrested. "There is no necessity, he continued, for such rapid and reckless driving as was mentioned in THE OREGONIAN this morning. It endangers the lives of pedestrians and lays proprietors liable to suits for damages; it spoils carriages and ruins horses. I would be glad if the police would arrest any of my drivers when found driving at an unreasonable speed." If the police would run in a few of the bold boys who dash around corners at a swing trot, and who seem to think the street was made for them alone, this reckless driving would soon be put a stop to.

THIS IS VERY FAST TIME.—The Chicago and Northwestern railroad has now arranged for a train to leave Omaha at 5 P. M. daily, and arrive in Chicago at 7 A. M. which will carry one Portland, one San Francisco and one Denver sleeper. It will also make no stop. This arrangement affords passengers from Oregon and California one and one-half hours quicker time than was originally contemplated. All other through cars including colonist or emigrant sleepers reaching Omaha from San Francisco or Portland in the afternoon will go forward by the train that reaches Chicago at 2 P. M. the following day. This schedule will make the time to Chicago from Portland in a little over three days.

WILL BUILD BRANCHES.—The Union Pacific Railroad Company have intimated that they will build railroads or branches wherever such are necessary in this part of the country, and they have plenty of money for this purpose. Several lines are in contemplation, among them one from this city to Astoria, and it is understood that in a short time, Mr. John Hurlburt will make an examination of the country to see if a feasible line can be found from Springville, below the city, over into Washington county, and thence down the Scholfem and by way of Big creek to Knappton, and thence to Astoria.

THE VANDERBILT REPRESENTATIVES.—The party of general passenger agents of the great Vanderbilt system who have put in several days of their junketing tour in the Northwest, returned from the Sound yesterday morning and left for San Francisco on the afternoon express. From the latter place they go to Los Angeles and San Diego and then back, returning home over the Union Pacific, via Salt Lake. They expressed themselves highly pleased with Portland to a reporter yesterday, and predict a great future for the city. All visitors say the same thing.

THE PROPOSED CITY HALL.—A large property-owner yesterday inquired where the new city hall was to be built. The person addressed offered to tell if the inquirer would state when it was to be built; but the latter did not know, but said he heard a county commissioner say he favored selling the county court house to the city for a city hall and then having the county build a new court house in modern style. The city would probably prefer a hall in modern style, and will hardly invest in such a rambling structure as the county court house.

OUR BIG ISSUE.—The windows will soon all be in place in THE Portland. A lot of plate glass is going in on the ground floor. The contract for window shades for the whole building was let to H. F. Gullixson & Co., to whom the contract for furnishing the carpets was awarded some time since. The wooden finish of the dining room is being put in and will be very handsome. The tiles for the office floor have arrived and are being laid, and everything is progressing toward completion as rapidly as possible.

BIG BOOM AT MT. TABOR.—I. G. Davidson yesterday sold to Clinton & McCoy thirty-five acres at the western base of Mt. Tabor for $52,000. The property lies on the base line road near the Fretlymun place, and is very fine. Unless re-sold within a short time as a whole, Clinton & McCoy will plat the tract and put it in the market in lots on easy terms. It will make over 400 beautiful lots. It is within 300 yards of stores, school, church, moor line, etc.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS.—William S. Mellen, general superintendent, J. M. Hannaford, general traffic manager of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, are in the city. It is understood that they are here on business connected with the suit lately brought by the O. R. & N. Co. to prevent Northern Pacific from making unjust discrimination against the O. R. & N. in the matter of freights and passengers.

IMPORTANT REAL ESTATE SALE.—Mr. Noah Lambert yesterday purchased of Mr. Lombard, through H. D. McGuire & Co., real estate dealers of East Portland, the lot on the east side of First street, between Oak and Pine, with two-story brick building occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Company, for the sum of $36,000. Good judges consider it a fine investment.

PROBABLY WILL BUILD OUT.—Owners of property out along the section line road have offered to Mr. George W. Brown, of the Hawthorne avenue motor line, to build an extension of his road four miles out into the country, around the south base of Mt. Tabor, if he will guarantee them 5-cent fares. There will be a railroad out through that section before long—sure.

SURVEYING AND GRADING.—Over fifty men and fifteen teams are employed in surveying and grading the motor line from the city limits to "West Portland." They are now grading through Dr. Cardwell's place. The contract has been let for a bridge seventy feet in hight across the West Portland creek. The line extends five miles beyond the city limits.

RECEPTION TO MRS. JULIA WARD HOWE.—The ladies of the Unitarian church have tendered a reception to their distinguished guest, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, to which the public are cordially invited to be present. The reception takes place this (Thursday) evening, in the parlors of the church, at Seventh and Yamhill, from 8 o 10:30 o'clock.

NO PLACE LIKE OREGON.—Mr. Squire Farrar, of Salem, was in the city yesterday, on his way home from a two months' trip East. He has not been back before since his arrival on this coast, twenty-eight years since, and he made an extended tour, taking in all the large cities. He saw many wonderful things, but no place like Oregon.

SEE BEAUTIFUL WHEATLAND to-day and secure a lot for $150, $5 down and $1 per week, without interest. All lots high, cleared, level, with splendid view and perfect drainage, and near school and store. Free covered carriage. Near two motor lines. Call on George W. McCoy, No. 10 Stark street, corner First, UP STAIRS, and secure a home.

TURNED OUT WELL.—The salmon fishery at Shoalwater bay and Gray's harbor turned out well this fall. At Gray's harbor 30,000 cases were packed and at Shoalwater bay 16,000. There was a good run of large salmon at the first of the season, and afterwards the silver-sides came in such numbers that they could not be taken care of.

MASS MEETING.—A mass meeting of the colored citizens will be held this (Thursday) evening, at their church, corner Eleventh and Main streets, for the purpose of taking the necessary steps for the celebration of the emancipation proclamation of Abraham Lincoln. It is hoped a full house will be in attendance.

TWO BIG PEARS.—The Philadelphia Record of November 6 contains the following paragraph: Mr. James A. McCaffrey, of West Philadelphia, has two pears which came from Grant's Pass, Southern Oregon, the largest measuring twenty inches and weighing three pounds and two ounces.

THEY ARE PRETTY THICK.—As a sample of how numerous wires are becoming in this city, it may be noted that there are eighty strung along in front of Hon. H. W. Corbett's fine six story block at Third and Oak, and altogether at the corner of the building about one hundred are hung.

THE WHITE PRINTING COMPANY, of East Portland, yesterday elected the following officers: J. H. Lambert president, R. L. E. White secretary and treasurer, and Fred A. Dunham business manager.

THE WRONG NAME GIVEN.—By an error in a dispatch concerning the fire at Pomeroy, W. T., a few days since, the firm of Austin, Wilkinson & Co., was incorrectly given as Austin, Parkinson & Co.

AFTER THE CANINES.—Poundkeeper Myers and his lieutenant, Ab Lawrence, were out on a dog-catching expedition yesterday. Ab's style of handling the dog-net attracted a large crowd.

OFF FOR GRAY'S HARBOR.—The steamer Dolphin sails for Gray's Harbor this morning with a cargo of brick for the Montesano court house, and will bring back a cargo of lumber.

MOUNT TABOR VILLA.—Call on J. D. Hart, 33½ Morrison street, and get passes to see those $100 lots ($5 down, $1 a week, no interest.) Best buy in Multnomah county.

SOCIETY is much interested in the Freidenrich concert and a large attendance is assured. Tickets at Joyt's music store.

PORTLAND, THURSDAY, NOV. 14.

THE FREEDOM OF THE POPE.

The platform of the congress of Catholic laymen at Baltimore concludes with this statement, viz:

> The absolute freedom of the holy see is equally indispensable to the peace of the church and the welfare of mankind. We demand, in the name of humanity and justice, that this freedom be scrupulously respected by all secular governments. We protest against the assumption by any government of a right to affect the interests or control the acts of our holy father by any form of legislation or other public act to which his full approbation has not been previously given, and we pledge to Leo XIII, our worthy pontiff, to whose hands Almighty God has committed the helm of Peter's bark amid the tempests of this stormy age, the loyal sympathy and unstinted aid of all his spiritual children in vindicating the perfect liberty which he justly claims as his sacred and inalienable right.

This is a curious utterance for a body of American Catholics, who must be intelligent enough to know that "the perfect liberty which he (the pope) claims as his sacred and inalienable right" is no more sacred or inalienable than any other bit of obsolete mediævalism, for example, the divine right of kings. The spiritual freedom of the pope as the head of the Catholic church is more perfectly assured to-day than it ever was before in the history of the world, and the civic freedom of the pope is as inviolable and sacred to-day as that of any other citizen of Italy—neither more nor less. It ought not to be more, and it certainly is not less.

The temporal power of the pope, when it had its nominal existence, was really a phantom. It was the football one day of a German potentate, the next day of a French king. The time was when there was a pope at Rome and a pope at Avignon, the political puppets of rival sovereigns, who both professed to be true sons of the church. The temporal power of the pope, before the unification of Italy in 1870, always rested for support upon the foreign halberds of the middle ages and the foreign bayonets of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Frederick Barbarossa and Henry Fourth, of Germany, in turn bulldozed the pope, and when foreigners were not making a political "Merry Andrew of the pope, he was but the creature of one or the other of the great aristocratic families of Italy. The Colonnas, the Orsini, the Medici, the Visconti, were always wrangling for the control of the holy see, and in the course of this local quarrel in Italy, Germany, France, Spain or Austria generally stepped in with troops to steal the prize of battle. Thus, the temporal power of the pope up to 1870 rested on the pikes or bayonets of foreign mercenaries. What was the temporal power of the pope when Bonaparte swept the face of Italy with the besom of victory? Practically it rested upon the bayonets of the first consul, who by turns cajoled, wheedled or bullied the pope. What was the temporal power of the pope in 1848-49, when Garibaldi and Mazzini summoned young Italy to arms? It was prostrate at the feet of the revolutionists until France sent an army under Marshal Oudinot to prop up the crumbling throne of the pope with its bayonets. The moment that this prop was removed, by the recall of the French army in 1870, the army of Victor Emanuel marched in and the temporal power of the pope marched out, never to return. Victor Emanuel was a true son of the church, and his extinction of the temporal power of the pope, in 1870, was a logical necessity of the doctrine of Italian unity; of the doctrine of the separation of church and state, upon which the Italian constitution rests.

The temporal power of the pope not only received its misseri cordia at the hands of a Catholic king, descended from a long line of Catholic princes, and the sovereign of subjects almost entirely Catholic, but it was consented to and approved of diplomatically by the Catholic rulers of France, Austria and Spain as the best, because the only solution of the political situation. The unity of Italy being resolved upon, under a constitution whose corner-stone was the separation of church and state, it could only be completed by extinguishing the temporal power of the pope. Not to have extinguished the pope as a civic sovereign would have been logically impossible, and to revive his temporal power would mean the undermining and overthrow of the Italian constitution. The acceptance of the temporal power theory by any political party in Italy would place it in the attitude of direct and complete negation of the actual existence of Italy as a nation and a state.

The extinction of the temporal power of the pope was not only a military but a political necessity: the Catholic powers of Austria and Spain confessed that statesmanship demanded it, and Catholic Victor Emanuel, when he consented to it, did not repudiate his religion, because, as THE OREGONIAN has heretofore stated, there is no authoritative text, no decree of a council, no decision promulgated ex cathedra that affirms the temporal power as a dogma of the church, and at the last council of the Vatican a majority outvoted the attempt to make an article of faith of the temporal power. It is true that it is taught as a positive article of faith and a dogma of the church by the Catholic clergy in France and America, but that teaching is hopeless to make a great political revolution roll backwards. France has extinguished the political power of the church, while it recognizes its spiritual claims by making the clergy the stipendiaries of the state, and Germany has done the same. Italy logically had to choose between unity as a nation under a constitution which absolutely separated church and state, and extinction of the pope as the civic sovereign of the papal states. She has made her choice and she can not recall her decision, save by repudiating the constitution under which she became United Italy.

It ought not to be forgotten that the extinction of the temporal power of the pope was the work of Catholic hands, approved of by the Catholic powers of Europe, and in violation of no dogma of the Catholic church; and it is a surprising thing that the congress of American Roman Catholic laymen fail to see that, as a spiritual figure, the pope was never really independent until united Italy became a fact. While the unification of Italy extinguished the temporal power of the pope, it placed him in a position of absolute intellectual and moral independence as the spiritual head of the Church of Rome, such as the pope had never before enjoyed, and for this substantial boon the extinction of the pope as a local political figure was a small price to pay. Before 1870 the pope enjoyed no real political or spiritual independence, because, as we have said, his throne rested on the props of foreign mercenary bayonets, but with the extinction of his temporal power, which was always a mere shadow of a name, his complete spiritual independence, in loftier shape than he formerly knew, has become absolutely assured.

If we turn to the material advantage of the extinction of the temporal power, it is worth noting that between January, 1872, and December, 1885, eighty-two miles of new streets have been built, paved and drained in Rome; 3000 houses have been built or enlarged, and 135,000,000 francs have been spent in public improvements, and the monuments of ancient Roman architecture have been revealed by excavations as they never were before.

The delay in the senatorial election at Olympia is resulting in a loss of prestige by the leading candidates, though this may not imply an actual loss of votes. It permits the consolidated field to fill the air with a cloud of rumors of losses and defections which may or may not be founded on fact. Just now Allen is more conspicuously the target of the opposition than Squire. The friends of other Eastern Washington candidates have shown good judgment in their choice of a candidate upon whom to concentrate their efforts. Judge Turner, of Spokane Falls, is a brilliant lawyer and trained legislator, and would make a creditable senator. But he doesn't appear to have more than half the delegation from his own county, so the effort to combine the anti-Allen strength upon him lacks an effective starting point. Allen himself remains cheerfully confident that the ranks of his supporters are unbroken and that his election is assured. But then it is very easy to be confident. Mr. Thompson is confident that he is going to beat Governor Squire.

NEW TRANSCONTINENTALS.

The Union Pacific Northwest alliance leads as naturally to similar alliances among other roads similarly situated, as it is itself the natural result of the previous arrangement between the Northern Pacific and the Wisconsin Central. Indeed, it is much more imperative that the other Chicago roads should follow the example of the Northwestern in establishing transcontinental connections than it was that the Union Pacific should follow the example of the Northern Pacific in establishing a Chicago connection. The Northern Pacific lease of the Wisconsin Central was a convenience to the former and almost the salvation of the latter; but it was not a serious blow, either threatened or delivered to any other line. It gave the Northern Pacific a certain advantage in billing shipments through from Chicago instead of St. Paul, but it did not shut any other roads out of transcontinental traffic. Consequently it did not make a great stir in the railway world, though it undoubtedly hastened the consummation of the larger design the Union Pacific had in contemplation.

The effect of this consummation is immediate, grave and far-reaching. To the lines concerned it is of vastly more value than the lease of the Wisconsin Central to the Northern Pacific. To the lines not concerned it is a much more serious menace. On the one side, it consolidates into one great line from ocean to ocean the three most powerful links between New York and Chicago, Chicago and the Missouri river and the Missouri river and the Pacific, respectively, securing to the combination easy superiority in the command of business and distinct economy in its handling. On the other, it shuts all the Northwestern roads, other than the Northwestern, and their trunk line connections, out of their previous equal enjoyment of the Union Pacific route from the coast. This exclusion takes effect, not only at Omaha and Chicago, but at Denver and St. Paul. The new arrangement not only deprives the other Missouri river and trunk lines of their share of eastbound traffic over the Union Pacific, but it deprives those roads, like the Manitoba in the Northwest and the Rock Island in the Southwest, which have used the Union Pacific as a link in a through line to the coast, of the advantage of this connection. It puts every other line between Chicago and the Missouri river at a distinct disadvantage in comparison with the Northwestern and every line east of Chicago at a smaller but still perceptible disadvantage in comparison with the Vanderbilt trunk lines.

The western lines, feeling the hardships of the situation most severely, are the first to move for relief. These are the Alton in the Southwest, the Manitoba in the Northwest, and the Milwaukee, the Rock Island and the Burlington in both directions. At least two of these are likely to strike out for themselves and establish new through routes to the Pacific. The Alton is not strong west of the Missouri and may be taken into the Union Pacific Northwest combination as an humble annex. The Burlington has a sort of transcontinental connection through Denver and Ogden and may rest content with it. But the Rock Island, which feels the effect of the closing of the Union Pacific, both in the Northwest and the Southwest, is too strong to endure it with impunity. It was nearly powerful enough to force its way into the Northwest combination. Failing in that, its officials now announce that they have made arrangements for an independent connection. This must mean an alliance with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, which meets the Rock Island at Kansas City and has a connection over the Atlantic & Pacific with the Southern Pacific at Mojave. This would open to the Rock Island direct connection with the whole Pacific coast, from San Diego to Portland, and enable it and its eastern connections to compete on something like equal terms with the Union Pacific's Northwest combination for transcontinental business.

In the Northwest, the Manitoba railroad is left by the new combination in the situation the Santa Fe route would find itself in in the Southwest, if it were suddenly to lose its Atlantic & Pacific connection at Albuquerque. It has a line from St. Paul and Duluth to Butte, Mont., where it has until now received traffic from and given it to the Union Pacific. At St. Paul it has friendly relations with the Burlington, which gives it a Chicago connection. The Union Pacific deal with the Northwest cuts off the Butte connection and leaves it with its western end in the air. The Manitoba is not the line to put up with this state of things, and it is announced that it has formed a temporary alliance with the Canadian Pacific. This means, however, a short haul and leaving its line from the Red river to Butte idle, so far as through traffic is concerned. So it is easy to believe the story that the Manitoba will build its own line to the West just as soon as the work can be done. It will probably begin by building to a connection with the Oregon Railway & Navigation line at Spokane, and push through its line to Seattle at its leisure. This done, the Manitoba will probably give the Milwaukee a connection with the coast over its new line, and so measurably content the last of the Northwestern lines shut out by the Union Pacific deal.

MORALITY OR PROPRIETY.

When the Beecher trial was in progress an eminent New England jurist said that the woman witnesses on both sides did not appear to know the difference between virtue and a mere sense of fashionable propriety. That is, they seemed to think an intrigue with a man of genius, pretending by virtue of pulpit eloquence to be an oracle of the God he insulted by his impurity, was a venial offense compared with sinning with mediocrity in shape of your next-door neighbor. This criticism is recalled by reading in THE OREGONIAN the remark of a lady concerning saloon drinking. We quote:

> In my opinion it is bad enough to drink in a saloon under any circumstances, but when a man sneaks in through a back door, I am inclined to think just a little less of him and a little more of the man who boldly walks through the front door.

Let us get down to moral bedrock. Why is it bad to drink in a saloon in any circumstances? Why is it any worse to drink in a saloon, if you do not drink intemperately, than to drink at home, behind your door or the blinds of your neighbor? The vice is intemperance, whether you drink at home or abroad; and if to drink at all is a vice, then it is quite as vicious at home as abroad. And here is just where this pinchbeck society virtue, this "propriety" purity, comes in. It is not good "form" to drink in a saloon even if you are temperate in your indulgence, but it is at least condonable if you "fill up" at home. This mistaken sense of "propriety" calls a man who drinks wine at dinner a gentleman, while it stigmatizes a man who drinks wine in a saloon as a "vulgar creature." But no manly man feels other than contempt for the "moral judgment" of persons who rate saloon drinking as a sin and home drinking as the habit of a gentleman. Morally speaking, the only drinking that is defensible is that which never trenches on sobriety of thought, speech and action; and when drinking does trench on sobriety it is indecent and immoral, at home and abroad.

The Western Union doesn't count expense when it wants to get its own case before the public. It sent over the wires to Associated Press papers last night a column of matter, of which we give so much as we can find room for, embracing the company's answer to the postmaster general's ruling as to the rate to be paid on government messages. These rates, it will be remembered, were based upon certain low commercial rates prevailing when there were several telegraph companies in the field competing for business, and when it may be presumed business was taken as cheaply as the companies could afford, though hardly below cost. The answer of the company is that, if all its business were done at the rates prescribed by Mr. Wanamaker, its expenses would exceed its revenues by several million dollars per year. This may imply that its revenues in that case would be too low or that the expenses are now too high. The actual average cost of sending a telegraph message may be very much less than the proportion of the salary list, interest and dividend account of the Western Union. The stock and bonds of this company are popularly believed to represent something besides actual investment in plant and service. A better test of the actual average cost of sending a message is the price for which competing companies less burdened with stock and bonds not representing actual investment are willing to carry it. This was the test applied by Mr. Wanamaker. The company it appears, accepts his scale of prices under protest, agreeing to do the government business, but intimating a purpose to carry the case to some other tribunal, whether the courts or congress does not appear.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker has fallen into the prevailing Washington habit of sneering at the civil service commission. He says he would rather have a clerk for the railway mail service who knows all about routes and postoffices than one wise in cube roots and theorems, and declares that he will recommend congress to modify the law in accordance with this idea. The impression conveyed in this remark is not justified by the facts. The order placing the railway mail service under the jurisdiction of the civil service board was issued by President Cleveland, after he had demoralized the service by permitting Don Dickinson to fill it with democratic strikers. President Harrison confirmed the order, but postponed the time of its going into effect until May 1. This permitted Mr. Wanamaker to turn out all of Cleveland's democratic strikers and restore to their places the trained and competent clerks removed two years before. When the first of May arrived, the changes had all been made and there was nothing for the civil service board to do. So Mr. Wanamaker has suffered nothing so far by the application of the cube-root test to the railway mail service. He need suffer nothing hereafter, unless he wishes to make wholesale removals. The only function of the civil service board is to make nominations to vacancies in the lowest grade of the service, from which promotions are made to the higher as vacancies occur. Its examinations for these nominations are special and intended to test precisely the geographical knowledge which Mr. Wanamaker says is desirable. It is quite as likely to secure good material as the politician is who would fill vacancies were the law to be modified as Mr. Wanamaker desires.

There will be a new international fisheries dispute pretty soon if British salmon fishers do not keep out of American waters south of Fraser river. Complaint comes from Port Townsend that there is a good deal of this mild form of piracy and that the American customs force is quite inadequate to prevent it. As the depredations of the British are carried on in little fishing dories, it is just possible that the vessels of the old American navy might be able to keep them in check. Here is a suggestion for Secretary Tracy. It would afford practice for the seamen and wouldn't be very risky for the warships.

Members of congress are wisely keeping away from Washington, not to involve themselves in the speakership contest, but all the candidates are on the ground. Reed is said to be ahead in the race so far, with the prospect of a combination of the friends of all the rest against him. McKinley's greatest hope lies in the fact that he is the second choice of so many delegates, including about half of those from the Pacific slope. This part of the country naturally has a warm side for the man who made the memorable fight on free wool.

The all pervading religious question has found its way into the Washington legislature. Some of the members do well to get along with prayer at the opening of the daily sessions. The constitution carefully prohibits appropriations for religious purposes, so it is not possible to pay a chaplain. The resident clergy of Olympia, however, are willing to take turns in invoking divine blessing upon the legislature without remuneration. Under these circumstances, nobody ought to object.

It is Chief Justice Anders, by the turn of chance and the courtesy of Justice Scott. These two drew the short terms out of a hat, and Justice Scott waved his claim to the chief justiceship in favor of his elder. Justice Hoyt got the long term. This proceeding was prescribed by the constitution and had to be adopted, but it looks a little queer and undignified to see supreme justices matching straws for the woolsack.

The Hawaiian minister to Washington has a proposition in his pocket for an extension of the present reciprocity treaty between that country and the United States, and the establishment of a practical protectorate. We have rather more reciprocity with Hawaii now than is good for any of us but Mr. Claus Spreckels, and Hawaii seems to have all the protection she needs. Why not let well enough alone?

Lieutenant Governor Laughton, of Washington, keeps a sharp eye on his privileges. He nipped in the bud a neat little plan to take the organization of the committees out of his hands by taking the oath of office ahead of his associates in the government. The lieutenant governor is apparently able to take care of himself.

PERSONS WORTH KNOWING ABOUT.

State Senator J. D. Lee, of Polk county, is now in Seattle looking after some business interests in that city.

Mr. Paul F. Mohr, chief engineer of the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern Railroad, has returned from his Eastern trip.

Rev. James P. Ludlow, a Baptist minister of Seattle, started yesterday for Japan, there to engage in missionary labors. He is accompanied by his family.

In order to enable the empress of Austria to communicate directly with the Austrian capital, a special cable will be laid between Corfu and the continent.

Some years ago a daughter of Harriet Beecher Stowe gave Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett a thin gold ring set with a single moonstone (moonstones are accounted as "lucky" stones), and shortly afterward she made her first success in the field of literature, where she has formerly labored in vain. She laughingly attributed her success to the moonstone, and since then the ring has never left her finger, and she declares it never will.

Judge J. B. Reavis, of North Yakima, after a long and serious illness is slowly recovering, and his friends may hope to see him able to attend his professional duties before long.

Brunton Howard is now in receipt of $1400 a week from his play, "Shunandoah." In a short time this piece will be running in four cities, and he will have royalties amounting to $4000 or $5000 a week.

Edmund Clarkson Stedman is fifty-seven and has a couple debt to pay being litterateur by night and broker by day. He is an affable-mannered busy man, with a pretty turn for anecdote. He is the father of a grown up-family.

Mounet-Sully, the great French actor, says that he has given his word to Maurice Grau to come to America for a time when he has finished his twenty years at the Comedie Francaise. That time, however, will not be for three years yet.

Lew Wallace says, the scene that moved him most in writing "Ben Hur," was the one representing the hero sleeping on the steps when his mother and sister, after their release from the dungeon, drew near and recognized him, and yet dare not approach nearer.

Salvi II, the tragedian, is a stalwart, enthusiastic man, of the robust school, with a massive bald head and a drooping black mustache waxed at the extremities. He is as strong as the proverbial Nemean lion, and six and fifty. He studied the part of Othelo, while languishing in the deepest dungeon beneath the castle wall at Genoa.

Julian Hawthorne, in describing some of his father's unpublished MSS., which he is editing, says: "He wrote so small a hand that he would put 1500 words upon a page of ordinary letter paper, and when he had written a word of a line that displeased him he rubbed it out with his finger and wrote over the inky space thus made."

Mme. Henry Greville, the authoress, has written to a French paper to state that the famous Chateau of Nohant, in which George Sand lived and died, is now in the market by reason of the death of M. Maurice Sand. The Nohant estate is situated a few miles from La Chatre, a pretty little city in the old Province of Berri. The chateau is three stories high, and whoever buys it will have George Sand's study and bedroom just as they were when she last occupied them.

SPIRIT OF THE NORTHWEST PRESS.

LINKVILLE'S DEAD NEGLECTED.

Klamath County Star: To those who have dear ones sleeping in the Linkville cemetery, it might be distressing to hear of the daily desecration of that sacred place. But the truth must be told. It is a fact that the field in which the dead should be allowed "six feet of dust," all they claim, is diverted from its sacred purpose. If the dead loved ones could speak to those whose duty it is to guard their little beds from vandal violence, they would probably protest against the broken down condition of the gate and the transmutation of their place of rest to a stamping ground for the steers and horses and a paradise for barbarian trespassers.

A DEFEAT OF ISMS.

The Dalles Times-Mountaineer: The late victory in Ohio was not a democratic victory, but a defeat of the several "isms" which clustered in and around the republican party. In every instance, for the past quarter of a century in which the two parties—untrammeled by outside alliances—have come before the people for their suffrages, the democracy has met a crushing defeat. The past record of the party does not recommend it to the patriotism of the American people, and its present stand upon the living issues of the day does not commend it to those who have the best interests of the nation at heart.

MUST BE AN AGGRESSIVE MAN.

Snohomish Sun: Whoever is selected to represent the state of Washington will have an excellent opportunity to show his statesmanship. He must be an aggressive man and demand for Washington what justly belongs to her as one of the states in the Union. Having been kept out several years longer than was just and right, now that she is to be a state her representatives should not be a territorial delegate, but demand as the representative of a sovereign state many of the rights which she as a territory has been denied. He should be a man that will do his duty to the state and fight monopoly without fear or favor.

STABILITY OF AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS.

Spokane Falls Review: The mantle of statehood has fallen upon Washington, and the labors of a generation find consummation in the highest type of government. That the change has come so quietly, without a perceptible jar to the machinery of government, is strong proof of the value and stability of American institutions. The 11th day of November has become a chronological mark that time can never efface. Other days rich in memory and historic importance will belong to us with the rolling years, but none, nor all, can obliterate the day that brought the bloom of sovereignty to the fair state of Washington.

RELIEF FOR FARMERS.

Times-Mountaineer: There is no excuse for not making a thorough canvass of Wasco county to ascertain if there are any farmers who will suffer by reason of the partial failure of crops in this county during the past season, and relief should be forthcoming immediately. The farmers have traded with us and built up our business in the past, and in their hour of adversity we should be willing to relieve their distress. The Dalles has always had an enviable reputation for open-handed charity, and there should be no remissness when there is suffering among our neighbors and approximately at our own doors.

SAN DIEGO'S MAYOR.

Tacoma News: San Diego has a mayor named Gunn. Some fault was found with his administration of the office and an intimation was made that he would be fired. At this the Gunn kicked, the city council voted to sustain the mayor, and the charge was withdrawn. As the affair has ended in smoke and his maligners are now muzzled, it is clearly shown that the powder spent on the mayor only shot off a blank cartridge, making a loud noise but doing no damage.

A NURSERY OF RAINBOWS.

Astorian: A scarf of rainbows was playing up and down the river yesterday, and all day long one or two could be seen, now brilliantly outlined against the black background of a somber rain cloud, and now vanishing as the rain came sweeping across from the new state of Washington. For a play ground and nursery of rainbows the lower Columbia, on a showery day can't be excelled.

THE GRAY'S HARBOR TOWNS.

Hoquiam Washingtonian: The people of Gray's harbor are among the livest and shrewdest business men of the far West. With the present and proposed avenue of commerce, it will soon puzzle either Seattle or Tacoma to hold strings on the business of Gray's harbor towns. At present will make the best ones of these possible.

MERELY A SUGGESTION.

Inland Globe: The man arrested in The Dalles, by a deputy sheriff from Multnomah county and taken to Portland, was not Gay, as supposed. Would it not be well to give an officer a description of the person wanted before sending him nearly 100 miles to look for him?

ANOTHER FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The Third of the Series to Be Held at Pendleton, Commencing To-day.

To-day, the third of the series of the Farmers' Institute, held under the auspices of the State Agricultural College, will commence at Pendleton, Oregon. The following is the programme:

THURSDAY, 9:30 A. M.

"Address of Welcome".....Hon. J. H. Raley, of Pendleton
"Response".....Prof. E. Grimm, of Corvallis
"Climate, Observations and Deductions"..... .....B. S. Pague, of Portland

THURSDAY, 2 P. M.

"How Can Farmers and Laborers Better Their Condition".....J. N. B. Gerking, of Athena
"Injurious Insects"..... .....Prof. F. L. Washburn, of Corvallis
"Wheat Culture".....J. A. Cross, of Vancycle

THURSDAY EVENING.

"The Labor Problem".....C. Cole, of Pendleton
"Farmers and Legislation"..... .....J. P. Wager, of Pendleton

FRIDAY, 9:30 A. M.

"Topics of the Day", J. F. Temple, of Pendleton
"Eastern Oregon Grasses"..W. C. Cusick, of Union
"Farming in England"..J. B. Eddy, of Pendleton

FRIDAY, 2 P. M.

"Stock-Raising", A. C. Henderson, of Pilot Rock
"The Farmers' Alliance and Co-operation"..... .....G. Gibson, of Pendleton
"Fruit Culture".....D. W. McDannald, of Milton

FRIDAY, EVENING.

"Meteorology".....J. K. Romig, of LaGrande
"Farmers and Corporations"..... .....W. A. Sample, of Helix
"Rural Homes".....M. D. Egbert, of Walla Walla

It is intended for short discussions, in which all may participate, to take place after each address, and when the institute is not otherwise engaged. Music will also be liberally interspersed throughout the entire programme.

THE SINGLE TAX.

ROSEBURG, Oregon, Nov. 9, 1889.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I have been reading with considerable interest the land or single tax theory articles recently published in THE OREGONIAN. The theory advocated seems plausible enough, and might be a good thing after it had once been placed in operation and become a settled fact, but I do not see how the change can be brought about without inflicting great injustice on present land owners. After the law is once in force, no one, of course, need buy land unless willing to pay the taxes thereon and no harm could result. No one, so far, has attempted to explain how this single tax law would effect present land holders or how they propose to bring this change about. Douglas county is assessed at about $4,000,000, very nearly one half of which is land. From this property, real and personal, a certain sum must be raised to pay expenses of government, etc. One-half of this sum is now paid by the land owners, and they growl now over "high taxation." If next year they should have to pay all the taxes would not the taxes be double what they are now and the growls correspondingly greater? If the land owners—many of them—find it so hard to pay their taxes now, how could they pay twice as much next year, if a new law should be made? If a portion of the land had to be sold in order to raise the amount of tax, what would be the effect on the price of land? Would the price be reduced or increased? Would there be a general rush among moneyed men for land, that they might pay the taxes thereon, or would land holders hasten to exchange taxable dirt for non-taxable bonds and greenbacks? Will THE OREGONIAN or some of its correspondents please enlighten me?

LAND OWNER.

AMERICAN TURF CONGRESS.

A Number of Amendments to the Rules Adopted.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The annual meeting of the American Turf congress to-day discussed the rules drawn up by Secretary Bruce as amendments to the present rules. The most important change was the alteration of clause A, of rule 47 to read:

"There shall be no dash race given for horses 3 years old and upwards for less than one mile."

This was the only change that brought about a division, it being adopted by a vote of 6 to 2, Judge Perkins, of Latonia, and L. Ezekiel, of Birmingham, being the dissenters.

Section II in the preamble, reading: "Subscribing jockey clubs agree that no consociation of bookmakers" was stricken out. The rule in regard to foul riding and foul driving was changed to read: "Any one ruled off for fraud shall stand off for life." Rule 160 was changed to read: "When two or more horses start in a race in the same interests or owned wholly or in part by the same persons, they shall be coupled and sold as one horse in all pools." Paris mutuals and book betting, "pum ser" of minor changes were made and several were referred to a committee to report on to-morrow.

PUGILISTIC MATTERS.

A Lively Eleven-Round Mill Which Ends in a Row.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A lively mill of eleven rounds, skin-tight gloves, was fought this morning in an East Side resort between Charley Judge, of this city, and Joe Fowler, ex-featherweight champion of England. In the first five rounds Judge punished his opponent all over the ring, but after that the Englishman gained strength and began pounding Judge. In the eleventh round he landed a terrific uncharted cut on Judge, who at once claimed his jaw had been broken. Judge's friends were in a large majority and tried to keep him going. A terrific din ensued. Finally Steve Brodie, the referee, decided the match drawn to prevent trouble, as revolvers and revolvers were drawn, but the pugnacious ones finally subdued. Judge was badly punished.

PADDY SMITH VS DANNY NEEDHAM.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The Occidental club to-night matched Paddy Smith, of Birmingham, England, and Danny Needham, of St. Paul, to fight for a purse of $1000, December 23.

TO DEMAND SATISFACTION.

Moorish Authorities Must Pay for Insults to the Italian Government.

ROME, Nov. 13.—A cruiser and two torpedo boats have been dispatched to Tangier to demand satisfaction from the Moorish authorities for the burglary committed at the office of the Italian charge d'affaires. If the demand is not granted, Tangier will be bombarded to-morrow.

THE "FIGARO'S" DISPATCH DENIED.

ROME, Nov. 13.—The Paris Figaro's dispatch with reference to Italy's relations with Morocco is semi-officially declared to be untrue, as Morocco is ready to give satisfaction for the outrage on the Italian charge d'affaire at Tangier.

THE DAM BROKE.

A Disastrous Flood at Ontario—An Old Couple Drowned.

ONTARIO, Nov. 13.—This morning the dam at McClellin's flouring mill, a mile west of here, broke and the water swept down toward the town, carrying away six mill dams and four bridges, and wrecking half a dozen mills and several dwellings. The house of an old couple named Harris was carried away, and both occupants were drowned. Many other residents had a narrow escape.

A FEDERAL UNION.

The Protocol Joining the Five Central American States Signed.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The Guatemalan minister, in an interview, stated that the draft of the protocol for a federal union of Guatemala, San Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica had been signed, but required ratification by the congresses of the five countries. He knew nothing of the report that the smaller states resisted that Guatemala be divided into two states to prevent a preponderance of power.

CABLE NOTES.

Politics in Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The persons arrested for taking part in the attempted Boulangist demonstration yesterday numbered 158. All but sixty were anarchists.

A plenary meeting of the members of the chamber of deputies belonging to the party of the right has decided to maintain an expectant attitude which will be regulated by the policy of the government.

Opening of the Diet of Saxony.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—The diet of Saxony was opened to-day by King Albert, in his speech opening the session the king congratulated the diet upon the increase in trade of the country and the improved condition of working men. He was confident, he said, that the peace of Europe would be maintained.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES.

The earl of Mount Cashell is dead.

Mr. Boyle, editor of the London, England, Chronicle, is dead.

Colonel Marr, who sold office under President Pierce, has died in Paris.

Yesterday the Masonic grand lodge for Arizona elected George F. Rodrigue grand master and George W. Cheney deputy grand master.

The democratic city authorities of Richmond, Va., have decided to discharge all the colored men in the employ of the city government.

Ex-Mayor John Carmichael, a maltster of Amsterdam, N. Y., assigned yesterday, the result of aiding his brother Daniel in making a forged paper good.

The Farmers' National Congress assembled at Montgomery, Ala., yesterday, with delegates present from every state and territory. A number of papers were discussed.

President Harrison left Washington very unexpectedly this evening on a ducking excursion in Maryland, accompanied by ex-Senator Sewall, of New Jersey. He may be gone several days.

It is estimated that it will cost $10,000 to repair the damage done by the recent rain storms to the new silver vault in the treasury court, in which nearly 100,000,000 of standard dollars are stored.

Chow Ah Gee, a Chinaman accused of murdering Thomas Gibbs, a watchman and janitor, at San Francisco on March 1, last, was acquitted, at night by the jury, after five minutes deliberation.

William B. Hunt, well known throughout California to all old-time Californians, and especially to politicians, died at St. Mary's hospital at San Francisco to-day, after an illness of several months.

The London News correspondent at Canea, referring to the reports of outrages on Cretan women by Turkish soldiers, explains the denials by the fact that the women do all they can to provoke publicity.

Doctor Mary Weeks Burnett to-day sued Mrs. H. M. Barker, of the W. C. T. U. of Chicago, for $25,000 for slander. It is the outgrowth of the same matter which prompted the suit against Miss Willard last week.

The seventh annual convention of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions began at Milwaukee yesterday, ex-Governor Furnas, of Nebraska, in the chair. Only routine business was transacted to-day.

John Ward said last night that the brotherhood had purchased grounds for a new Brooklyn club. They are situated on the corner of Fulton street and the Manhattan beach crossing in that city. It is stated that the purchase price was $100,000.

Three of the four breweries located in Kansas City, have practically sold to the English syndicate which recently purchased the breweries of St. Louis. The price paid is supposed to be $1,500,000. The formal transfer will occur January 1, 1890.

A firm for whom he has been doing a lot of business claims that by means of forged mortgages he has swindled them out of large sums. The estimated forged paper will exceed $10,000.

The Central Bureau of Relief, of Washington, D. C., an organization composed of colored men, have issued an appeal to the earnest advocates of the equal exercise of political and civil rights for colored Americans citizens in the South; and a call for a national convention, to be held at Washington on the first Monday in February, 1890.

They Accept Lands in Severalty.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 12.—A Pioneer Press special from the Vermillion reservation, in Northern Minnesota, says Boise Forte Chippewas have accepted the proposition of the government in regard to taking lands in severalty and for that purpose have ceded to the United States their reservation, embracing about 115,000 acres.

Eighteen Desperadoes Captured.

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 13.—John Jackson was arrested this morning by two United States marshals, as one of the twenty-nine men who, in July, 1883, murdered Sheriff Cross and posse, of Stevens county, in No-Man's-Land. Seventeen more of the gang are now in Stevens county, and the authorities there captured them all this afternoon. The murder created intense excitement throughout the western part of the state at the time, and grew out of the Hugoton-Woodsdale county seat war.

Bishop Newman's View.

Bishop Newman, who has just returned from an extensive Southern tour, says the South is working out her race problem all right. "But in the North, with its constant influx of foreigners who are no more familiar or in sympathy with the principles and institutions of a republic than are Hottentots, the final solving of the problem is perhaps more or less involved in doubt. How could the ignorant hordes of these multitudes flocking to our shores in the exceedingly brief period of their residence entitling them to vote be transformed into the true, the typical American citizen? I think that only with a tremendous effort will the republic continue to exist as it is now, and avoid declining into a mongrel or an utter failure. Republics are not immortal. They are about as liable to go to the devil as are monarchies.

Tremendous Movement for Boston.

Boston Advertiser: The advent of a Boston bruiser into the theater the other evening, during the progress of a sensational play, was sufficient to distract the attention of the audience from the thrilling scenes on the stage to the—apparently—still more thrilling scene in the auditorium aisle. The two-hop girls in front of the observer nudged each other in unpardonable glee, and hoarsely whispered, "That's him," while the pugilist, with a self-important swagger, moved ponderously toward his seat. After he and his party had been ushered into their places by the awed attendant, the audience sank back into their seats with an air of comfort and satisfaction, and the play was allowed to go on.

A Typographical Error.

Talking of typographical errors, the Burlington, Vt., Free Press does not remember seeing a more horrible specimen of this class of blunders than one which appeared in a Massachusetts paper not long ago. At the close of an extended and highly eulogistic notice of a deceased lawyer the reporter wished to say that "the body was taken to Hull for interment, where reposed the remains of other members of the family." By mistake a letter "o" was substituted for the "u" in Hull, changing the sense of the sentence to such a degree that no extra copies of that issue of the paper were ordered by the family of the dead lawyer.

A British Vessel Seized.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—The steamship Stroma, from Carthagena, reports that the British schooner Pearl of Nova Scotia has been seized by a Colombian steamer for trading on the San Blas coast, and transferred to Carthagena. This is the first seizure ever made on the coast, under an act of fifty years' standing, making the coast of Colombia dutiable to foreign vessels. This will effect a large number of schooners trading along the coast.

An Earnest Appeal for Aid.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 13.—A Pioneer Press' Pierre special says: The Fort Pierre Herald contains a startling but earnest appeal for aid. It says that a company of soldiers with bayonets in hand, together with a number of "squawmen," and a band of redskins are on the reservation. Trouble has been expected at the Fort for many weeks, owing to the conflicting claims of intending settlers and "squawmen" for the lands.

The Holzhay Trial.

BESSEMER, Mich., Nov. 13.—In the Holzhay trial to-day after the opening address, the taking of testimony began. The prisoner was positively identified by several men who were in the stage he robbed, and relatives of the murdered man identified the articles found on Black Bart's person at the time of his capture.

DECLINE IN THE PRICE OF LEATHER.

Over Production Has Demoralized the Market—Tanneries Losing.

Speaking of the condition of the leather market Herbert Bradley yesterday stated that prices have taken a material decline during the past year

Especially is this true said he, in regard to the prices of upper leather In the heavier grades, such as harness and sole leather, the decline owing to a more uniform demand is not so marked About a year ago the prices ruled steady in all grades of leather but during the last five or six months the prices have declined at least from 20 to 30 per cent.

There is no corresponding decline in the price of raw material There are several causes for the decline Over production is the principal cause. Within the past few years tanneries have sprung up in all parts of California Competition was too close and the result is that many of them have closed up Their goods are sold by whole sale commission houses in San Francisco at any and all prices They want to get rid of their stock and take anything they can get This surplus has been greatest in upper leather This has demoralized the leather market to a great extent With the heavier lines of leather such as sole and harness stock, the prices fluctuate less, owing to greater consumption and a more steady demand

"There is no question," continued Mr Bradley, "but all engaged in the leather business would be better off if half of the tanneries would shut down and the other half would grade their leather Tanners should pay more attention to grading their stock. In the East a person can get hides of any grade They are uniform and a person gets just what he wants. Here we have to buy leather in job lots, and it is hit or miss whether a person strikes a good bargain or gets much of what he wants Of course there is not much demand for graded leather here, and this is the principal reason, I judge, that tanners pay so little attention to it.

THE GOSPEL MEETINGS

At the First Congregational Church—Services at the Tab rnacle.

The seventh meeting at the First Congregational church last night was one of interest

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev T A Clapp, who earnestly plead for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit, and for his presence during these meetings.

The first hymn sung was I know in Whom I Have Believed, followed by "They That be Wise as a solo by Professor Wilder with the congregation uniting in the chorus' Closer to Thee' was then sung, and the scriptures were read by Rev Clapp who selected Matthew III He said 'there are three dispensations in the kingdom of God—the dispensation of the Father, the dispensation of the Son, and the dispensation of the Holy Spirit'

A solo by Professor Wilder was then given—"Who Cares for a Soul, followed by 'Alas' and Did My Savior Bleed' Rev Cephas F Clapp delivered an earnest discourse, taking for his text, Luke ii, 7 and Rev iii 20.

To night Rev T E Clapp will preach at the usual hour Gospel meetings will be held in the First Congregational church, Albina Rev J W Sneed, pastor to-night, to morrow and Sunday nights Rev Cephas F Clapp will preach each evening

The question of human and divine co-operation was the theme of the discourse at the Christian Tabernacle last night. The text was elaborated by Dr Reese, and was from I Corinthians iii 9 'Ye are laborers together with God,'" Preaching again this evening, preceded by a short song service in which Gospel Hymns No 5 are used. All are invited to attend, strangers especially

EXAMINATION OF MRS. AH CHUNG

It Was Decided That She Must Be Sent Back to Victoria, B. C

Ah Chung, the Chinese woman arrested for coming into this country unlawfully, had an examination before United States Commissioner Paul R. Deady yesterday The testimony submitted having established the fact that she had been smuggled into the United States from British Columbia the commissioner decided that she must be sent back to Victoria forthwith

Marshal Myers made no objection to United States Marshal Hamilton, of Washington, who was present at the examination, conveying the prisoner back to Victoria and receiving the fees for the service This action is in contrast with the refusal of the United States Marshal of Nebraska, in November, 1888, to extend a like courtesy in the case of R E. Janeway, who had escaped to Omaha, Neb from Oregon while under bonds to appear before the United States district court at Portland, upon a charge of robbing the United States mails. An Oregon deputy went to Omaha, at a large expense for the purpose of identifying Janeway, and bringing him back to Oregon The Nebraska marshal, however, refused to allow the deputy from Oregon any part of the fees or service in bringing Janeway to Portland, but insisted upon performing all the service himself There is ev dently a different standard of official courtesy in Oregon from that which obtains in the states.

KEEP THAT BUILDING MOVING'

Le. the Superintendent of Streets Look Out and See That It Is.

The persons who have the contract to move the old Lewis building and who were fined $10 for damaging trees in front of city property are likely to get into more trouble. They have left the building standing at the corner of Stark and Ninth streets for several days. The law requires buildings in process of being moved to be kept on the go they must be moved every day and every hour in the day People who have little regard for the rights and conveniences of others should have their memories jogged, but it is seldom any city law is enforced It is now the duty of the police to look after obstructions in the streets, but they look too far after them generally The superintendent of streets should be held responsible for such matters and the council could probably oblige him to attend to them The council cannot oblige the police to do anything The commissioner of streets should be responsible for everything connected with damages or obstructions to streets, and the council started in some time since to make this arrangement, but out of the kindness of their hearts gave it up, as they thought it would be too much of a burden on Mr W S Chapman

JUSTICE WILL BE DONE.

No Fears of Mob Law in the Gibbs Case Entertained—Pennington's Statement

There is no need in denying that as much as the Portland police force rejoice in the capture of Gibbs they are feeling pretty blue over the fact that they were not instrumental in bringing it about. As usual they were not "there' on the 'home stretch and the Yreka officials got all the glory, although they really made but little effort as compared with that put forth by the Portland officials. Still the Portland police are given credit for earnest endeavor and hard work. They did the best they could, and their failure to appreciate the murderer is more their misfortune than their fault

The capture of Gibbs is still the principle topic of conversation on the street corners. The public feel a sense of relief and while no one clamors for the life of the wretch, all have confidence that justice will be done and that the murderer will atone for the life which he so wantonly destroyed

A dispatch received from Yreka last night states that ex Jailor Horsie has not yet arrived at that place He is expected there to-day M C Penn agten yesterday stated that he is incorrectly quoted by another paper which causes him to say that he did not believe that Gibbs intended to shoot James McDevitt 'Such is not my belief," said he. "Mr McDevitt pleaded with Gibbs not to shoot his son, and as the entreaty was met only with defiance and another pistol ball, I cannot be put on record as saying that my belief is that Gibbs had no intention to shoot him."

LINN COUNTY OWLS.

To a Portland Boy They Look Very Much Like Ohioan Pheasants.

A Portland boy who was visiting his cousin up in Linn county shot a Chinese pheasant one day while they were out hunting, says the Silverton Appeal. As they approached town in returning from their hunt the astute country cousin took the pheasant from the Portland boy's hands and deliberately pulled its tail feathers out. "Why did you do that?" indignantly asked the city youth "That makes him an owl' said the country jake with a knowing wink. "There aint no law 'gainst killin' owls in Linn county." The Portland boy whose father belongs to the Portland Rod and Gun Club sneered as he said "Well, you must be a jay; when my old man does up a China he brings him home tail and all" 'That's all right for Portland, said the country cousin,' but I tell you we have law up here in the 'Forks.' You Rod and Gun Club fellers wouldn't know a law if you was to meet it on the road."

What Congressman Morrow Says of the Pacific Coast Delegation.

More Harmony Will Exist Than Ever Heretofore —The West Will Demand Political Recognition—Praise for Oregon.

Congressman William W. Morrow, of San Francisco, accompanied by his wife, two daughters and Miss Richards, a lady friend, arrived in this city yesterday on his way to the national capital to enter upon the duties of his third term.

Mr. Morrow was seen last evening and asked for his opinion as to the policy of the Pacific coast senators and representatives at the coming session of congress.

"In my judgment," replied the congressman, "the most effective policy to be pursued will be the uniting of the entire Pacific coast delegation. I feel confident that they will unite and work together in behalf of needed legislation. I think more harmony will exist than ever before. We have undoubtedly suffered much in the past because we haven't pulled together. Our votes did not count for much politically, and our demands could be ignored by our Eastern friends without much embarrassment to them.

"We have now grown to such proportions that we will undoubtedly be recognized as having influence in political affairs. The admission of Washington and Montana adds very materially to our strength in both houses, and it will be proper for us to use this increased strength for our home welfare. We should demand appropriations that will enable us to provide for the proper defense of the whole coast as outlined by the recent annual report of General Miles. We should also have appropriations sufficient for the improvement of our rivers and harbors. The public lands should be surveyed, so that actual settlers can possess themselves of homesteads and secure titles thereto at the end of the period prescribed by law. Other legislation might be mentioned, but it is not necessary, as what I have stated is sufficient to illustrate the point I make on behalf of the concert of action on the part of the senators and representatives of the Pacific coast."

On returning home after the adjournment of the last session of congress Mr. Morrow came via Portland. He is greatly pleased with the country, and said last evening:

"I am greatly pleased to see the numerous evidences of prosperity at every turn in the North Pacific territory." He continued: "This section will undoubtedly have a very large immigration, that will develop your vast resources beyond anything that you can comprehend at this time. I can say the same for California, whose developments are being duplicated here in every direction. Let me say another thing for Oregon. Your two senators are able, active and efficient men, and there is a no more industrious man in the house than Mr. Hermann. He commands the respect and confidence of his colleagues in the house. He has done much for the state he represents during his preceding terms, and will undoubtedly do much more during his next term, as he has improved like all members by his experience. This state has undoubtedly discovered the value of returning its member and reaping the advantages of his increased knowledge and influence."

Mr. Morrow and party leave for the Sound today and will proceed to Washington over the Canadian Pacific.

EAST PORTLAND NEWS NOTES

Special Meeting of the Fire Delegation—A Profitable Investment—Other Items.

A special meeting of the board of fire delegates was held last night with John H. Hall, president, in the chair.

As the election of chief engineer, first and second assistants takes place in December, the board elected the following:

Judges—A. M. Donalson, Thomas Hislop and H. C. Smith.

Clerks—Otto Breyman and A. H. Boscow.

The election will take place the first Monday in December in Pioneer engine hall.

E. L. Thorpe, secretary of the fire board, reported W. Strahal, W. Esmond, R. Linville, C. E. Forbes, as having joined Pioneer Engine Company, and E. H. Botsford resigned; placed on honorary roll, G. R. Mathews. James Curran was reported as having joined relief.

Secretary was instructed to issue badges to the new members and strike from the roll the name of the members resigning.

W. D. Pape tendered his resignation as treasurer, which was accepted, and W. W. McGuire was elected to fill the vacancy.

DIRECTORS' MEETING.

A member of the board of directors and the W. C. T. U. furnished the following reports: W. C. T. U. met in regular session on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Kerr presiding. Mrs. Kerr appointed Mrs. Ross to conduct the monthly reading, in the absence of Mrs. Chamberlin. Subject, "Impure Literature." The reading and discussion which followed were very instructive and profitable. Business session followed. The president suggested a mothers' meeting to be held in two weeks, and on motion, Mrs. Dr. Moys was requested to furnish a paper suitable for the occasion, the subject to be left to her own judgment. Mrs. G. J. Ross was appointed to confer with her. Owing to the illness of her little daughter Mrs. Harbin, the secretary, was absent. A platform was ordered for the hall, and some plans was discussed for gospel temperance meetings, to be held in the near future.

The union is moving on, "keeping step to the music" of the White Ribbon Army, of which it is a loyal part.

At the last regular session of the board of directors of the Baby Home it was decided to send out paper bags, properly marked, to procure Thanksgiving donations to the home. These have been procured, and will be left at all places of business and at private houses wherever any one has anything to spare or anything to be thankful for. Dear friends, in the midst of your joy remember the little ones for whom no mother smiles and who are dependent on others than their natural guardians for all the love and care they receive.

Many and generous are the friends of the home, and to each and all grateful thanks are hereby tendered. No more appropriate gift has been received (aside from donations of cash) than that of a piece of red flannel (twenty-five yards) from the Brownsville Woolen Mills, per Mr. Bishop, the manager.

We know Mr. Bishop will not need an overcoat this winter for deeds like this keep the heart so warm the cold cannot enter.

Donations of money and goods have been received from so many that all cannot be named here, but will be published in the yearly report. We thank you all and cherish your names and good deeds.

"But be not weary in well doing."

MISCELLANEOUS.

Having no rent to pay, I can sell better boots lower than any one. Tom Parrott.

J. L. Ferguson and family, have resumed their residence at their home in this city.

Mr. Johnny Payne was up from Klickanine yesterday. He has become a landowner since he went away from East Portland.

The people of East Portland would be pleased to find out what milkman has been selling them impure and unwholesome milk, although it would not be so pleasant for the milkman.

The Y. M. C. A. will give a grand business men's carnival and banquet at Armory hall, Wednesday evening, November 20. Programmes will be issued soon. Make your arrangements to attend. Admission, 25 cents.

Some time ago an East Portland capitalist bought seventy-five lots for $50 each at Vancouver, B. C. These lots have already advanced 600 per cent., and when last heard from were still climbing. This is the best investment yet reported.

A policeman reported that there was an outrageous row in Freeman's saloon, Fourth and K streets, Sunday night, in which some man was badly beaten. This is a violation of section 8, of ordinance 492, and any violation of this section besides being a misdemeanor, shall operate a forfeiture of the license held by the party violating it. The matter should be investigated.

WHAT THE COURTS DID YESTERDAY.

Suit to Recover Property—Filed His Bond—Will Wed—New Citizens—Decisions—Etc.

On petition of Edward N. Deady for leave to bring a suit against C. N. Scott, receiver of the Oregonian Railway Company (limited), for the payment of certain claims against said receiver for wages of employes and for operating expenses and to enforce the lien of said claims against the property now in the hands of said receiver to pay the same, it was ordered that the prayer of said petition be granted, and said petitioner be allowed to commence a suit against said receiver for the causes set forth in said petition.

By an order of Judge Deady made some time since wages of employes and operating expenses of the Oregonian railway were made a lien upon the road and can be collected. It is understood, however, that persons who have been buying up these claims have depreciated them by endeavoring to make out that they could not be collected in full, hence this suit is to be brought.

BEFORE THE POLICE JUDGE.

In the police court yesterday the usual assortment of drunks and other petty offenders had justice meted out to each by Judge Tanner. Joseph Tofflin, John Burden, Willis Wilson, William Noonan, Thomas Mulligan and John Rose, alias James Smith, charged with drunkenness, were fined $5 each; Arthur McBride and B. W. Frisby, same charge, $10 each; Frank Wilson, one of the gang who created a disturbance in the XXX saloon Monday night, was given twenty days in the city jail on general principles. He escaped from the stone pile brigade at the city park about a week ago, while he was serving a term under the name of Thomas Patterson.

Thomas McLaughlin and John Pierremond were fined $20 each for being drunk and disorderly, and Tim Sullivan, the inveterate drunk, was sentenced to serve a term of sixty days on a charge of vagrancy. Harry Brannan, who is also charged with vagrancy, will have an examination this afternoon. Brannan it is stated, is engaged of a variety actress at the Royal theater and has been living off her earnings.

Jerry Vaughn and George Tracy, the two faro dealers, raided Tuesday night, forfeited $100 bail each, and Charles Bergman and James Vernon, two players captured at the same time, forfeited $25 each.

John Wangerman had an examination on a charge of stealing a silver watch from Charlie Nowhotney, a 7-year-old boy, who claimed that the time piece was forcibly taken out of his pocket. Young Wangerman, who himself is not over 15 years of age, denied the theft. He claimed to have bought the watch from Nowhotney for 25 cents. Although the entire proceeding appeared rather crooked, the judge discharged the defendant, especially as the small boy's reputation for veracity was shown to be somewhat below par.

Charlie Nowhotney was examined on a charge of stealing the same watch from his mother, the latter appearing as complainant. The youngster was found guilty, and at the request of his mother he was placed in charge of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society. His mother claims that he is a very unruly child, and she is not able to keep him under control.

The cases of J. J. Prescott and N. J. Robinson, charged with scattering hand-bills on the streets, and that of Henry Gessford, charged with larceny from Mrs. Mottingly, were continued until this afternoon.

TWO NEW SUITS.

The Parke & Lacy Machinery Company yesterday instituted an attachment suit against W. H. Beers for $35 95, for goods sold and delivered October 26.

John Mahoney commenced suit in the circuit court yesterday against John E. Woods for $1050. He asks for $600 for a violation of a certain contract and $450 on an assigned claim.

NOTES.

Judge Stearns will announce decisions this morning in the following cases: Ernest Kroener vs. H. K. Hunsaker, Ida Morrill vs. Eli Morrill.

John Patrelis, a native of Russia, appeared before the county clerk yesterday morning and declared his intention to become a citizen of this country.

County Clerk Powell issued a license yesterday morning to Walter H. McMonies, permitting him to wed Miss Charlotte Wittenberg, both of East Portland.

J. R. Campbell, who was recently appointed executor of the estate of the late J. F. Hunsaker, appeared in the county court yesterday morning and filed his bond of $67,000. From the size of the bond required the estate must be a valuable one. Mr. Campbell's sureties, seven in number, are all Lane county residents.

LAST NIGHT'S AMUSEMENTS.

"The Phœnix" Still Holds a Drawing Power—"Jealousy" at Cordray's.

It really seems that Milton Nobles's melodrama, "The Phœnix," with himself as the Bohemian, Carroll Graves, will never grow old. Despite the air of improbability inherent in some of the situations, there is still a subtle charm in the characterization of that child of bohemia which redeems the play. It seems always new, always fresh.

Milton Nobles is too well known in the role of Carroll Graves, afterwards Jim Bludso, to require any extended notice. His earlier scenes of semi-exhilaration, the amusing garret scene with his continued story for the Chambermaid's Gun are as individual and unique as ever, and his admirable assumption of disguises in the second and third acts are as artistic as ever.

Dolly Nobles gives the same sweet, sympathetic impersonation of the Flower Girl which has appealed to the admiration of all her admirers for so long.

The company all do their work well. Louis F. Howard is intensely amusing as Moses Solomon. He does not overact the part, which most actors, similarly cast, would find difficult to avoid. Clifford Dempsey makes a good Leslie Blackburn, and Lizzie Lambert, in her male costume, is very chic.

"The Phœnix" again to-night.

CORDRAY'S MUSEE-THEATER.

Sid C. France, in his melodrama "Jealousy," continues to attract pleased audiences. His negro delineations were true to nature. He brings out the salient points in the characters he depicts and evokes laughter by the natural humor of the situations. "Jealousy" the remainder of the week.

THE DIVORCE MILL.

Mrs. Wetzell Changes Her Mind—Two Loosely Tied Knots Broken Yesterday.

The differences heretofore existing between Mrs. Luella May Wetzell and William A. Wetzell have been compromised. At least this is presumed to be so, as Attorney W. E. Thomas, counsel for the lady, who a few days ago claimed that she had been grievously wronged by her husband, appeared before Judge Stearns late yesterday afternoon and stated that Mrs. Wetzell had requested him to ask for a dismissal of the suit. The suit was accordingly dismissed and the papers withdrawn. This apparently is the last act of what at first promised to be a sensational bit of domestic drama.

MATTIE BATWELL GRANTED A DIVORCE.

In the circuit court yesterday morning, Judge Stearns granted Mattie A. Batwell an absolute divorce from her husband, Edward A. Batwell, by default. She charged her reprobate husband with desertion and also adultery. The facts of this case are too well known for repetition.

THE M'CLAIN'S NO LONGER MARRIED.

This court also granted Annie McClain an absolute divorce from Peter McClain on the ground of desertion and cruelty. Peter evidently did not care whether the divorce was granted or not, as he did not appear, and the decree was made on default.

THE ONLY TRUE VALUES

Are Those Obtained by Competition.

What is the true and real value of real estate is to be established at the rooms of the Real Estate Exchange, 128 First street, on Saturday next, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the lots in the Third Electric Addition will be offered to the highest bidder. The larger portion of the purchase price will be paid in installments of $40 each month, without interest. The lots in the Third Electric Addition are nearly as large as a city half block and are all nicely cleared. This is a rare chance to obtain a nice home. The purchasers of the lots will receive as a gift a very handsome cottage and lot (50 by 112 feet), fronting on Caslin avenue, (which is 80 feet wide), valued at $500. Comfortable seats will be provided for the ladies.

Oregon Short Line.

Eighty-five hours Portland to Chicago, 21 hours quicker than any other line. Equipment first-class in every respect. Union ticket office 91 First street, corner Oak. G. S. Taylor, ticket agent.

Through Pullman vestibuled sleepers and dining cars; also latest improved tourist sleepers through to the East via Northern Pacific railroad. Office, No. 121 First street, corner Washington.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE.
NEW YORK'S GREAT CHEMIST.
This is to certify that I have analyzed Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. I find it composed of pure materials, compounded on correct scientific principles. The ingredients are accurately and scientifically proportioned. Hence bread or biscuit prepared with it are better suited for digestion.
